Upstate performing arts centers unite to seek state support

by Kate Goldsmith

The Bardavon 1896 Opera House in Poughkeepsie and the Ulster Performing Arts Center (UPAC) in Kingston are part of a 13-member coalition of downtown historic performing arts centers in upstate New York who are seeking an ongoing $20 million in operating support from the state. Their goal is to encourage New York lawmakers to think of the upstate historic theaters as they do zoos and aquariums and public television statewide: organizations that have great public benefit to the citizens of the state.

In addition to the Bardavon and UPAC, Alive Downtowns! members include Clemens Center (Elmira), Palace Performing Arts Center (Albany), Proctors Collaborative (Schenectady, Albany, Saratoga), The Reg Lenna Center for the Arts (Jamestown), Rochester Broadway Theatre League's Auditorium Theatre (Rochester), Shea's Performing Arts Center (Buffalo), The Smith Center for the Arts (Geneva), Stanley Theatre (Utica), State Theatre of Ithaca, Syracuse Area Landmark Theatre, and Troy Savings Bank Music Hall.

Combined, these facilities have an average age of nearly 100 years and have been keystones to their respective downtowns for all those years. They serve over 5 million people annually, including thousands of students. Their aggregate budgets exceed $100 million and their economic impacts for upstate's major downtowns conservatively exceed $350 million.

Upstate New York's historic theaters are essential to their cities' continuing attractiveness, urban education opportunities and economic viability.

Millbrook Rotary celebrates 50 years of 'Service Above Self'

by Curtis Schmidt

It's been a great productive and caring 50 years for members of the Millbrook Rotary Club – and now it's time to recognize those efforts and look to the future.

The 50th anniversary event is set Saturday, Jan. 28, at the Links at Union Vale. A reception at 5:30 p.m. will be followed with a dinner and awards ceremony.

Entitled "50 Years of Doing Good in the Community," the event will honor George T. Whalen III of the Bank of Millbrook, Michael Flanigan of Reardon Briggs Hardware Store and Thansi Theodoropoulos of the Millbrook Diner. The keynote speaker will be Cara Mia Bacchicchi of Hope on a Mission in Poughkeepsie.

The long history of the club is chronicled by original member David Brinkerhoff. Above all, members have always followed the Rotary Club motto of "Service Above Self."

"We have helped families that have been 'burned out' and we even bought a Braille typewriter for a needy student in Amenia," Brinkerhoff recalls. And for 12 years, the Millbrook Rotary delighted all with "New Year's in Millbrook," an evening of family entertainment on New Year's Eve funded largely by community grants. The event has not been repeated since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Brinkerhoff said another significant activity over the last 20 years has been the Millbrook Area Business Directory, which gives business owners in Central Dutchess visibility with its wide distribution.

Two Dutchess County family farms were recognized as Century Farms at the 2023 NYS Agricultural Society Annual Meeting & Forum on Jan. 12 in Syracuse.

Kemmerer Farm of Stanfordville and Wonderland Farm of Rhinebeck received Governor's proclamations and outdoor signs signifying their legacy.

Members of the Kemmerer Family were photographed with Richard Ball, NYS Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture and Markets. The Lobotsky Family was unable to receive their award in person.

The Kemmerer Farm is currently operated by the third and fourth generations, and provides firewood, hay, beef, pork, and poultry for sale and leases campsites with picture perfect views of the Catskill Mountains.

The Wonderland Farm was originally deeded in 1751. The house and barn are located on the property that dates back to the 1790s. Steven Lobotsky took over the farm in 1998. He continued to grow row crops and launched pandemic, when these and other performance venues were forced to shut down operations for more than a year, and for many months following were only allowed to reopen at a fraction of their capacity.

John Parkhurst, Chief Operating Officer of the Rochester Broadway Theatre League, commented, "The COVID-19 shutdown of nearly two years has impacted us greatly as an industry. We are coming back, all of us, but, frankly without this coalition it would have been much harder."

In a press release, the coalition stated: "In meeting with local legislators and the Governor's office, the response has been very supportive. The coalition is grateful for that response and hopes to reach all state elected officials to assure an annual appropriation that will allow its members continue to be part of growing upstate downtowns guaranteeing accessibility for all citizens for years to come."

Chris Silva, longtime Executive Director of the Bardavon 1896 Opera House in Poughkeepsie added, "This group of performing arts centers are economic, educational and cultural engines in Upstate. We are hoping the state can make a modest investment in us that will pay huge dividends."

Club member Stacey Langenthal said the organization has been involved with local food pantries and with supplies for area schools for many years.

"The club started the 'School Supplies Project' over 10 years ago," said Langenthal. "We have provided school supplies for all ages and for both the Millbrook Central School District and the Webutuck Central School District. Funding has come from our club, Rotary District 7210, the Millbrook Tribune Garden and Millbrook Education Foundation."

She said supplies are purchased through "our good neighbor, Reardon Briggs" and Michael Flanigan. For the 2022-2023 school year, school supplies donated cost just over $8,000.

"During the pandemic in 2020 and 2021, food insecurity became even more critical," said Langenthal. "The club sponsored nine food pantries or meal providers during that crisis, including Food for Folks at Lyall Church in Millbrook, Food of Life at St. Thomas in Amenia and 'Serving Millbrook,' which was coordinated by the Millbrook Diner."

In May 2022, the club hosted a food insecurity panel to help determine next step needs with local food support providers. Langenthal said the club is committed to continue its focus on food insecurity in 2023.

The record of caring on the local level has been evident throughout the past 50 years – whether it was helping local school children or donating funds toward the purchase of a new ambulance.

From a historical perspective, the club was chartered on Jan. 31, 1973 as the Central Dutchess Rotary Club, since they met at the Cottonwood Inn, which is the geographical center of Dutchess County. The territory ran from Pine Plains to Millerton to LaGrange to Pleasant Valley. Other Rotary clubs started by the Millbrook Club include Pleasant Valley, LaGrange and East Fishkill.

Their name was changed to Millbrook Rotary 28 years ago. They met primarily at the Cottonwood Inn, but also at Copperfields Restaurant and the Millbrook Town House.

Women were admitted beginning 25 years ago, with Jan Miller being the first female president.

A partial list of club activities includes the Foreign Student Exchange, Interact Club at Millbrook High School for 30 years, and fund-raising events to include antique/craft shows, yard sales, get-away

Pierce who celebrates his 92nd birthday Thursday, April 10, will be honored by the Central Dutchess Rotary with a luncheon to be held at the Cottonwood Inn Wednesday, April 9 at 12:25 p.m.

A $200 savings bond will be presented by the Central Dutchess, La Grange and Pleasant Valley Rotaries to a student at the Upton Lake Christian School who "exemplified service above self," according to Rotary members. The savings bond will be named the Charlton V. Pierce Award.

The Central Dutchess Rotary received its charter in March 1973. Pierce is a charter member and was instrumental in obtaining the club's sponsorship for formation of the Pleasant Valley Rotary in 1979 and the co-

County to offer free rabies clinic on Feb. 19

The Dutchess County Department of Behavioral & Community Health (DBCH) is partnering with the Dutchess County SPCA to host a free rabies vaccination clinic for pets on Sunday, Feb. 19, from 8 a.m. to noon, at the Dutchess County SPCA, located at 636 Violet Avenue in Hyde Park. This clinic is open to dogs, cats and domestic ferrets 3 months of age and older.

Advance registration is required at DCSPCA.org or by calling the DCSPCA at (845) 452-7722, ext. 425.

There is no charge for Dutchess County residents; non-residents will be charged a fee of $10 per pet vaccinated. All dogs must be on leash, and cats and domestic ferrets must be in carriers. Vaccinations will be good for three years for pets with proper proof of a prior immunization. For those without proof, the vaccination will be good for one year.

Rabies vaccinations are required by New York State law for all cats, dogs, and domestic ferrets by the age of four months of age. Pet owners are required to revaccinate on a regular schedule to keep the animal properly immunized against the rabies virus. Owners can be fined up to $200 if they fail to get their pets vaccinated and keep them up to date.

DBCH is available 24/7 to assist with any questions or concerns regarding potential rabies exposure to people or domestic animals. Pet owners should report to DBCH any incident in which their pet has been bitten by or has an open wound exposed to the saliva or nervous tissue of a domestic or wild animal. Staff will investigate and advise the pet owner of any necessary steps they should take to ensure the safety of their animal.

DBCH diligently investigates and monitors rabies exposure cases throughout the county. In 2022, the department investigated almost 600 potential rabies exposure incidents, with 105 animal specimens tested and more than 100 people treated with rabies post exposure prophylaxis.

The county offers three to four clinics each year. In 2022, more than 400 pets were vaccinated through DBCH's community partnerships.

Residents who see an animal acting strangely are advised to contact their local police agency. If a person has been bitten, or a domestic pet is bitten or is in contact, with any animal, they're to contact DBCH immediately at (845) 486-3404 Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., or (845) 431-6465 on nights and weekends.

Legislators propose 10% exemption on property taxes for EMS, fire personnel

Joined by members of the Dutchess County Legislature at the Roosevelt Fire Station #3 in Hyde Park on Jan. 18, Chairman Gregg Pulver announced the introduction of a local law that would allow for a 10 percent county property tax exemption for volunteer firefighter and volunteer ambulance service members.

The proposed local law will be on the agenda for the February Board Meeting where it will be voted on before going to the County Executive's desk for consideration.

"It's an honor to serve as a volunteer firefighter, and I am confident that my fellow members feel the same pride and passion that I do," said Pulver. "There aren't enough ways to fully thank these brave men and women for the services they provide their municipalities, but it is my hope that this measure will help show how incredibly grateful we are for their service and work and serves as a reminder that they will always have our support and backing. I thank my colleagues for joining me in support of this measure and look forward to voting on this during our February Board Meeting."

"It's an honor to be a sponsor of this Resolution that provides us with a small way to say 'thank you' and offer our full appreciation to the men and women who volunteer their time as either a firefighter or ambulance service member in Dutchess County," said Majority Leader Will Truitt (Hyde Park, Town of Poughkeepsie). "Our volunteer members are selfless leaders within our community, and the service they provide is immeasurable. It is my hope that this exemption will help incentivize other individuals to answer the call to serve and protect their communities."

The local law would offer a ten percent county property tax exemption to volunteer members who have actively served for a minimum of three years and would be offered for each year of service thereafter. Members must reside in the city, town, or village that the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department, or voluntary ambulance service is located. Individuals who actively served for a total of 20 years would be offered this exemption for the remainder of his or her life as long as their primary residence remains within Dutchess County.

The application process would be coordinated by the local municipalities assessor's offices.

This proposed legislation comes after

New York State recently signed into law a bill that allows all local governments with the option to provide a property tax exemption to the aforementioned groups.

Pursuant to the rules of the County Legislature, the proposed local law was laid at the Legislator's Desks at the Board Meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 17. It will now go to a committee vote before being heard at the full board meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 14. This measure would go into effect for the 2025 tax rolls.

Garden work is done during the spring, summer and fall months on Saturday, Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 8:30 a.m. to noon. You are welcome to work as often and on any days that suit your schedule. Thrift shop in Red Hook: The "New to You" Thrift Shop at 30 Benner Road has opened. Sales will benefit St. Christopher and Good Shepherd Church. Four rooms to roam through; items include books, crafts, CDs, tapes, housewares, home décor, clothing and more. Hours: Thursdays, 11-4 and Saturdays, 10-2 (and Saturday donations).

Volunteers needed for OFA's Friendly Calls program: The Dutchess County Office for the Aging (OFA) is reaching out to older adults who are isolated and would like some type of social connection, somebody to talk to for 20-30 minutes a week. OFA's Friendly Calls program is looking for volunteer callers to reach out to our older adults. It's a simple program at its core: neighbors talking to neighbors in a short, structured conversation. OFA screens both the volunteer callers as well as the people being called. You'd be talking to somebody who lives alone, is isolated, and has expressed an interest in staying socially connected. Volunteers would start out calling from OFA headquarters in Poughkeepsie, but we envision the program becoming something a volunteer can do from home if that's what they prefer. Adult volunteers of all ages are welcome. If you're interested in taking part as a volunteer caller, email bjones@dutchessny.gov or call (845) 486-2555.

FKC&S attorneys – new year, new moniker, same initials

Prominent Hudson Valley law firm Feldman, Kleidman, Collins & Sappe LLP (FKC&S) revealed its new name this month, reflecting the leadership of Partner Kathryn C. Collins and underscoring her many contributions. Formerly known as Feldman, Kleidman, Coffey & Sappe LLP, the Fishkill-based law firm will retain its abbreviated form, FKC&S, through this exciting transition.

Founded by Jeffrey M. Feldman and Paul S. Kleidman, the firm's award-winning team of attorneys have successfully tried cases at all levels of state and federal courts for more than 36 years. Specializing in personal injury law and professional liability defense, FKC&S is the only litigation firm between Albany and Westchester to be designated as a "Best Law Firm" by U.S. News & World Report since its First Edition in 2010.

"I am speechless, which truly never happens," said Collins, who comes from a long line of lawyers. "To have my partners surprise me with this incredible honor, I am just overwhelmed with gratitude that they want to include me in the name of the firm that they have created and grown."

Born and raised in the Hudson Valley, Collins joined FKC&S in 2015 and became the first woman named as a partner at the firm in 2019. Previously, she spent years as a partner at two well-respected law firms in New York City. Seasoned in the areas of medical malpractice litigation, professional liability litigation and general liability litigation, Collins has provided counsel for physicians, dentists, podiatrists, mental health providers, hospitals, nursing homes and fellow attorneys throughout her career. Earlier this year, she received an AV Preeminent® Peer Rated Attorney designation through Martindale-Hubbell, the most reliable and sought-after peer rating standard in the legal industry for more than 130 years.

"Kathryn's leadership has had an indelible impact on our team and the clients we serve," said Feldman. "She is a dynamic professional who has excelled in her career, always uplifting others along the way. We're thrilled to have her included in our refreshed name."

Collins graduated cum laude from the State University of New York at Purchase with a BA in English and received a Juris Doctorate from Brooklyn Law School in 2001. She is admitted to practice in the State of New York, the U.S. District Court, Southern, Northern and Eastern District of New York, the U.S. Court of Appeals, Second Circuit and the United States Supreme Court.

A member of the New York State Bar Association, New York Medical Defense Bar Association and American Bar Association, Collins has lectured at medical and insurance conferences, as well as at metropolitan medical facilities, about medical malpractice and risk management topics. For several weeks this fall, she shared her time and expertise as an educator through The New York State Judicial Institute, guiding New York State jurists who had little to no experience in presiding over a civil jury trial.

"Aside from being uniquely talented as a lawyer, Kathryn has a great sense of humor, friendly down-to-earth personality and a strong dedication to family," said Robert R. Sappe, partner at FKC&S. "She is well respected by everyone, including friends, family, colleagues – even her adversaries – in the legal community, the local community and the judiciary."

Collins resides in East Fishkill with her husband, Jim, their three children and their rescue dog, Pongo. Outside of work, she is vocal on women's issues, active in her school district and a strong supporter of animal adoptions. She serves on the Hudson Valley Hospice Foundation Board of Trustees and has been an active supporter of the organization since before joining the FKC&S team.

Legislature approves resolution to renew county tax rate despite Democratic opposition

During its January Board Meeting, the Dutchess County Legislature approved a resolution to renew the Dutchess County Sales Tax at its current rate of 3.75 percent.

The resolution is a necessary measure required to be passed every two years by the County Legislature before being approved by the State Legislature. This annual tax rate is predicted to generate $250 million for Dutchess County, which is used to provide programs and services residents rely on. Dutchess County also shares over 17 percent of sales tax collected with the City of Poughkeepsie, the City of Beacon and all towns and villages.

The resolution was passed with unanimous Republican support and no Democratic votes.

The 3.75 percent figure is only the county portion of sales tax. The total sales percentage, which includes county and state sales tax, and the MTA tax, is 8.125 percent.

During the Board meeting, an amendment was made by the Democratic Caucus to modify the tax rate to 3.625 percent - despite the 3.75 percent being approved with bipartisan, unanimous support during Committee Meetings the week prior.

"While I agree with my Democratic colleagues about the need to provide meaningful relief to the residents of Dutchess County, I do not agree with a rushed sales tax deduction that would leave $7 million-$10 million unaccounted for," said Legislature Chairman Gregg Pulver. "The Dutchess County Legislature has a proven history of reducing taxes and working on behalf of the tax-payers – just last year we eliminated county sales taxes for clothing and footwear purchases under $110. We have offered property tax cuts year after year which notably the Democratic Caucus continues to vote against. We will continue to work tirelessly on behalf of Dutchess County residents so they can thrive. I also don't think this is a good time to take important funding away from the City of Poughkeepsie, City of Beacon and municipalities who also have increased costs for the services they are providing."

Minority Leader Yvette Valdés Smith said, "Our Democratic Caucus put forth an amendment to lower our sales tax rate and we did this after careful examination and research as to how best we could help Dutchess County residents and businesses. Sales tax receipts have outpaced estimates by tens of millions of dollars over the past decade, money that the Republicans have squirreled away and then doled out for pet projects like the $25M for luxury improvements at the baseball stadium."

She added, "Consumers are paying 8.125 percent in Dutchess. They pay 8 percent in Ulster and Columbia. Struggling families and seniors need this money now. We need and deserve relief. Our amendment to lower sales tax would have put more money in the pockets of county residents and small businesses. We collected $45M more than expected in 2021 alone. We can absolutely cut sales tax by 1/8 percent to help our residents. This decrease in sales tax would have brought much needed relief at a time when everything [costs more]."

Representatives of the Republican caucus said Democratic legislators misrepresented regional sales tax rates as they tried to compare Dutchess County's sales tax rate with neighboring counties of Ulster and Columbia, noting each of those counties have a lower total sales tax rate of 8 percent. They noted that Dutchess County's total sales tax rate includes the New York State mandated MTA sales tax rate of 0.375 percent, which neither Ulster nor Columbia is required to collect. They further noted that the county portion of Dutchess County's sales tax is actually lower at 3.75 percent compared to Ulster and Columbia, both of which have a 4 percent county sales tax rate, 0.25 percent higher than Dutchess.

US-China Music Institute to present Chinese New Year concert at Fisher Center

The US-China Music Institute of the Bard College Conservatory of Music, in collaboration with the Central Conservatory of Music, China, present the fourth annual "The Sound of Spring: A Chinese New Year Concert" with The Orchestra Now conducted by Director of the US-China Music Institute Jindong Cai. This special annual event, marking one of the most important holidays in the Chinese lunar calendar, showcases an exciting blend of Chinese American artists, Chinese symphonic music, and traditional instruments.

Performances will take place on Friday, Jan. 27, at 7 p.m., in the Richard B. Fisher Center for the Performing Arts at Bard College; and on Saturday, Jan. 28, at 3 p.m., in the Rose Theater of Jazz at Lincoln Center's Frederick P. Rose Hall in New York City.

To purchase tickets for the Jan. 27 Fisher Center concert, visit fishercenter.bard.edu, call 845-758-7900 (Mon-Fri 10am-5pm), or email boxoffice@bard.edu. For tickets to the Jan. 28 Jazz at Lincoln Center concert, visit ticketing.jazz.org or call 212-721-6500.

This year's concert will celebrate the Chinese Year of the Rabbit. As with previous concerts, the US-China Music Institute aims to create the most authentic Chinese New Year musical event to reflect both traditional and contemporary music of China hand-selected for its New York audience. Featuring the much-loved Butterfly Lovers Violin Concerto, this year's concert promises to be full of enchanting stories and uplifting sounds.

The concert program will create a festive and celebratory atmosphere for music lovers young and old, illustrating the sophistication and dramatic artistry of Chinese symphonic music in our time. Butterfly Lovers will be the signature piece of the first half of the concert and will feature the virtuosic playing of violinist Na Sun, a member of the New York Philharmonic and a graduate of the prestigious Central Conservatory of Music.

Also in the first half, erhu player Beiting Liu will reprise her prize-winning performance of 'The Indominable Spirits of the Snow Mountain' for erhu and orchestra. Beiting is a Concerto Competition winner and a senior in the first class of Chinese instrument performance majors at the Bard Conservatory of music. She is a student of renowned erhu master Yu Hongmei of the Central Conservatory of Music.

The concert's second half will begin with Prancing Dragons and Jumping Tigers, a percussive showpiece of Chinese festive drumming. Two renowned living composers end the program, first with Zhou Long's King Chu Doffs His Armor for pipa and orchestra, based on the famous love story portrayed in the 1993 film, "Farewell My Concubine," and featuring pipa virtuoso Gao Hong. The program will close with Guo Wenjing's rousing and cinematic orchestral work Riding on the Wind.

The concert features soloists Na Sun (violin), Gao Hong (pipa), Beiting Liu (erhu), and Petra Elek (percussion).

The US-China Music Institute was founded in 2017 by conductor Jindong Cai and Robert Martin, founding director of the Bard College Conservatory of Music, with the mission to promote the study, performance, and appreciation of music from contemporary China and to support musical exchange between the United States and China.

In partnership with the prestigious Central Conservatory of Music in Beijing, the Institute has embarked on several groundbreaking projects including the first degree-granting program in Chinese instrument performance in a U.S. conservatory. # Rules to live by Four rules that have stood the test of time

When we were little there were always a set of questions we had to answer before we left for school. Right before we went out the front door to go to the curb to catch the school bus, we would knock on Mom and Pop's bedroom door to let mom know we were leaving.

Mom would shuffle out of her bedroom bleary eyed with her robe on. She would feel our face to make sure we were not feverish, look us over to make sure our jackets were zipped up and then ask her four questions.

The first question was, "Isa the coffee ready?" Mom would wait for Pop to come home from the restaurant at night and it usually was late, so we would make coffee for her in this little coffee pot on the stove. We would put in three spoons of Café Bustelo, fill up the water to the line, put the lid on and put it on the stove till it started to boil. We would then have a small cup with a big spoon of sugar and a slice of toasted panettone with butter.

The next question was, "Dida you go to the bathroom?" You see mom could tell how healthy we were by the way we went to the bathroom. If you didn't answer that question correctly would mean you would have to drink a glass of warm water with Brioschi mixed in it. Not pleasant first thing in the morning.

The next question was, "You hava the t-shirt on?" Mom was a stickler when it came to us wearing an undershirt under our school uniform. She said it would keep the sweat off us and help us to ward off colds. My brother John hated to wear undershirts and he would always try to sneak out without wearing one, so this question was always a tricky one

Finally, the most important question, "Dida you maka the sign of the cross?" We always had to bless ourselves before we would go out the door. This kept us safe.

Once those four questions were answered she would give us each a kiss and send us on our way.

I find myself sitting in front of my computer 40 years later telling this story and realizing how prophetic my mother was. If you follow these four simple rules, have a cup of coffee, go to the bathroom, put on an undershirt and bless yourself, before you go out the door in the morning, you will have a happy, healthy, and successful life. Enjoy the recipe for homemade panettone.

In a bowl, sprinkle yeast into milk; let stand for 5 minutes; stir to dissolve.

Mix the flour and salt in a large bowl; make a well in the middle and add the yeast mixture.

Using a wooden spoon bring enough of the flour into the yeast mixture until a soft paste is formed (you won't use all of the flour in the "sponge"; leave the rest there); cover with a towel and let this "sponge" sit till frothy and risen, about 20 minutes.

Mix in the flour from the sides of the well to form a stiff dough.

Turn the dough onto a lightly floured surface; knead till smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes.

Put dough in a bowl and cover; rise till double--about 1 hour.

Punch down; rest for 10 minutes.

Grease a round mold, a deep cake pan, or a small saucepan about 8" across and 6" deep with softened butter; line the base and sides with baking parchment so that it extends 5" above the top.

Knead 7 tablespoons soft butter, eggs yolks, sugar, citrus peel, raisins, nutmeg, lemon and orange zests, and vanilla into the dough until thoroughly combined, about 5 minutes.

Shape the dough into a round loaf; place in prepared mold.

Use the tip of a sharp knife and cut an "X" across the top; cover and let rise till doubled, about 2 hours.

Brush the top with egg glaze (1 egg and t tablespoons of water beaten well).

Bake in a 350 degree oven for about 45 minutes; until a pick comes out clean.

Remove from mold and let cool on a wire rack.

Dust top with confectioners sugar to decorate.

SUDOKU

Sudoku requires no arithmetic skills. The object of the game is to fill all the blank squares with the correct numbers. Each row of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order. Each column of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order. Each 3 by 3 subsection of the 9 by 9 square must include all digits 1 through 9.

Suguru

The heavy lines indicate areas, called cages, from one to five squares in size. Fill each cage with unique digits, counting up from 1. So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Adjacent (touching) squares, even ones that touch diagonally, may never contain the same number.

Introduction by Bill Jeffway

Brothers Alfred Brown (1823-1897) and Alonzo Brown (1835-1908) were likely born as Free Blacks in the Quaker stronghold south of today's Millbrook. Both seem to have found work in Poughkeepsie as young men or teenagers. While Alonzo spent the rest of his life in Poughkeepsie, around the late 1840s Alfred took the extraordinary step of moving to Australia. The half-century they shared into old age was filled with affection, and most importantly for us, filled with letters. Some of those letters, as well as photographs, have been carefully curated for many years by Alfred's great-granddaughter, Jan Green, of New Zealand.

We are pleased to share here an excerpt of a narrative recently written by Green that takes the 1884 letter her great-grandfather Alfred received from an Australian-based friend of his named J.M. Wolcott, describing his visit to Alfred's brother Alonzo in Poughkeepsie. The narrative beautifully captures the scene from the foot of Main Street up to what is today the small side street of Crannell Street near Catherine Street where Alonzo was a highly successful tinsmith.

In 2015, Green left research materials in DCHS's research library, which she recently updated. In support of her ongoing effort to continue to locate descendants and information related to the two brothers, or their parents Henry Brown (1788-ca. 1850s) and Judith Talmon (1794-1790), you will find Green's full "Letter to a Friend" and updated family sheets at www.dchsn.org/brown.

Letter to a Friend by Jan Green

Wednesday 16th July 1884
J.M. Wolcott is the name I am known by, but I prefer to be called Jesse. After two weeks, give or take, I boarded a day boat [in Albany] for Poughkeepsie. In recent years the old boats had been replaced with two iron hull ships, the New York, and the Albany. They were about three hundred feet long and could hold several thousand passengers. As I planned to be away for just one night, I had packed my carpet bag. Disembarking at the Main Street Landing it was evident that this was the only landing now operating with the railroad increasingly taking over passenger transport. The docks were a far cry from their glory day when the Upper Landing in North Water Street shared its space with the whaling dock. Alfred and brother George worked on the whaling ship Mogul in the 1840s and it was here that the two whaling companies operating would butcher and process their catch.

I took a tram car and road passed the Exchange Hotel which had seen better days. Built fifty years ago, she was once an impressive establishment that offered visitors to Poughkeepsie quality accommodation. By 1850, proprietor John Grant was known for his innovation in producing ale by using a steam engine and operating an icehouse.

The tramcar made its way up Main Street, now in the 1880s lined with fine buildings and bustling industry.

I held the trade card in my hand that I had carried with me from Australia as I pulled up at my destination on the corner of Eighmie Street and Main Road. As I disembarked with my carpet bag I looked up and the man inside, working in the front window of his premises, was watching me. I had, at last, arrived at the business of H. A. Brown. Alonzo, as he was called, was the younger brother by twelve years of my friend Alfred. It had been over thirty years since he had seen his brother but uncannily, Alonzo said that he was thinking of Alfred when the tram car pulled up. Alonzo lived at 4 Eighmie Place, a couple of doors away from his workplace with his wife Julia and nineteen-year-old daughter Ella.

The next day Alonzo and I went up College Hill to see where Alfred used to work. The Collegiate School, opened in

Closeness of two brothers half a world away recalled 140 years later

Jesse Wolcott (above left) was a friend and neighbor of Alfred Brown (center) in Australia. In 1884, Wolcott left Australia for a trip to New York which included a visit to Alfred's brother, Alonzo, in Poughkeepsie. A letter from Wolcott to Alfred is the basis for the first-person narrative dramatization of the visit published here, written by Alfred's great-granddaughter, Jan Green. Photos provided by Jan Green 1836, with its Parthenon colonnade was now empty. The grounds and the view were beautiful and with no plans for the building there is talk that the area will become a park within the next few years.

From there we travelled a short distance to 92 Catharine Street where Mrs. Brown lived with her daughter Sarah. Judith Brown, Alfred's mother, was eighty-eight years of age, Sarah almost seventy. Visiting them was a granddaughter Mary Elizabeth, the only daughter of George and Jane Brown who lived in Brooklyn. I was able to talk to them about life in Australia and tell them about their son, brother and uncle, his life and his family. Mary Elizabeth, a lovely young woman, was very interested in life in Ballarat and expressed her desire to meet her uncle and his family one day. I had to impress on them how unlikely that would be, Alfred was no longer a young man and the journey from Australia to America was long and costly. It was with sadness that they realized that Alfred's home is in Australia and that is where he will stay.

After bidding a fond farewell, Alonzo took me to the Soldiers War Memorial Fountain that had been unveiled on 4th July 1870 to honor the local veterans of the Civil War, which Alonzo had served in. Instigated by Dr H Eastman, mayor and well-respected businessman, who had donated seventy thousand dollars towards the memorial. Following his death in 1878 the twenty-seven-acre property was left to his wife Mary. We then walked through Widow Eastman's gardens, adjacent to the Memorial Fountain in Montgomery Street.

That evening Ella played the piano for her father and me. Alonzo's home had several pieces of Australian memorabilia that Alfred had sent him over the years, all displayed in pride of place. These included postcards and photos of Australia, an enlarged photo of Alfred's daughter Mary Ann hung above the mantel piece and even a photo of the Victorian Assembly was framed. Alonzo shared the latest letter he had received from Alfred, which was sent to him after I had left Melbourne. He told me he would write to Alfred within the next few days. I also planned to correspond, we thought that our letters may go by the same mail. With that I took my leave, calling into Schuyler Line offices on Broadway to check for mail from Australia and returned to Waterford, Saratoga. On 23rd July I wrote to my friend Alfred and gave him the news of my visit...

Chapter 98 "Zoning," Section 98-34 "Junk motor vehicles," shall be repealed and replaced as follows:

A. Intent. The outdoor storage of junk motor vehicles and/or motor vehicle parts constitutes a health, fire and safety hazard, is generally unsightly and tends to depreciate the value of property in the neighborhood. Therefore, it is prohibited.

MEDICARE SAVINGS PROGRAM ENROLLMENT CLINICS

If you're covered by Medicare, there's a new eligibility change that could mean considerable savings for you.

Starting this year, eligibility for the Medicare Savings Program (MSP) in New York State expanded to single individuals with Medicare who have a gross income up to $2,107 per month and couples with monthly gross incomes up to $2,839. New York State does NOT look at your assets for this program.

In New York State, MSP helps older adults and people with disabilities living on low incomes by paying their Medicare Part B premiums ($164.90 each month) and enrolling them in Extra Help, the federal prescription drug subsidy program that the Social Security Administration estimates is worth about $5,100 per year. This program lowers prescription costs and gets rid of the deductible and the "donut hole", or gap coverage. The financial assistance can be a lifeline, allowing enrollees to maintain their Medicare coverage, access needed care, and afford other necessities, like food and rent.

If this is the first time you're learning of this, you can find out more about your potential savings. The Office for the Aging is hosting two Medicare Savings Program Enrollment Clinics for Dutchess County resident older adults in early February. Please call ahead to reserve a time to meet with a trained counselor.

- Friday, February 3rd from 10 am to 1 pm at Sun River Health, 3360 NY 343 (East Main St.) in Amenia, about 0.3 miles east of the light in the middle of Amenia. To reserve your spot at this event, call 845-206-7526 (Ed) or 845-475-4159 (Mitzi). Masks are required at Sun River Health.

- Wednesday, February 8th from 10 am to 2 pm at the Office for the Aging, 114 Delafield St. in Poughkeepsie. To reserve a spot at this event, call OFA during business hours at 845-486-2555.

Both events are subject to cancellation or postponement due to weather and/or community infection prevention measures. Be sure to bring the following information with you to your appointment:

- Proof of income;
- Your Medicare card;
- If you pay for dental insurance or Medicare Supplement, bring a bill;
- Proof of address, like a current utility bill.

For older adults who are homebound or whose schedules conflict with MSP enrollment clinics, call OFA during business hours at 845-486-2555 and we'll connect you with the resources you need.

NEW OFA GROUP PRESENTATIONS AVAILABLE

We're happy to see more older adult and caregiver groups resume in-person meetings in 2023, and the Office for the Aging has two new Outreach presentations available for those groups. One presentation is "Exercise as You Age," aimed at encouraging physical activity among older adults, whether solo or as part of an organized exercise program such as those offered by OFA. The other is "Aging in Your Home," a discussion of what older adults can do to ensure their home environment is as conducive to healthy aging as possible, even if their budget for home improvements is limited.

For more information on all OFA group presentations, call 845-486-2555 or email bjones@dutchessny.gov. The February and March calendars are filling up quickly!

STILL SPACE FOR NEW 'FRIENDLY CALLS' VOLUNTEERS

The response thus far to our request for OFA "Friendly Calls" program volunteers has been fantastic – thanks!

If you're just reading about the program for the first time, here's the quick version of how it works:

Volunteers (age 18+ welcome) speak once a week for 20-25 minutes with a pre-screened older adult participant in the program, with the goal being to re-establish social connections for isolated older adults.

We're hosting orientations for new Friendly Calls volunteers during the next two weeks at OFA headquarters in Poughkeepsie. More will be scheduled in February and March as needed.

Contact OFA Outreach Coordinator Brian Jones at bjones@dutchessny.gov for more information.

Older adults interested in learning more about creating their own art can take part in the "Senior Park Prints Arts Series" in conjunction with Dutchess County Parks. It's been taking place at OFA Friendship Centers around the county, and two more sessions are left.

Assistant Park Naturalist Jess Steinbach is taking her artistry on the road, and will be teaching on how to make nature art with acrylic. These are free classes, and all supplies will be provided. Limited availability. Call OFA at 845-486-2555 to reserve your space. Choose one:

- Thurs., February 2nd - Northeast/Millerton Library Annex, 28 Century Blvd., Millerton
- Thurs., February 16th - East Fishkill Community Center, 890 Route 82, Hopewell Jct.

Each event takes place 2:30-3:45 pm. Please register in advance; walk-ins cannot be accepted.

For a look at the first Senior Park Prints event that happened this past week at the OFA Friendship Center in Poughkeepsie, visit this Facebook link from Dutchess County Parks.

USE '211' TO ARRANGE AARP/TAX-AIDE SERVICES

Since 1968, AARP Foundation Tax-Aide program has helped over 50 million low-to-moderate income taxpayers. As an intricate part of the Coalition Tax-Aide takes the lead in training volunteers and managing over 20 tax preparation sites in Dutchess, Orange, and Putnam Counties. More information here.

PREPARATION PROCESS (Service is provided by appointment only.)

Appointments are made by calling United Way Help Line 211 or 1-800-899-1479. Appointments can be made from 9 am to 2 pm Monday through Friday. If you do experience a wait time, we encourage you to use the option of leaving your name and phone number for a callback.

Important: Appointments cannot be booked through the Office for the Aging or any of the Tax-Aide sites.

Please be patient. Early call volume is very high. Please answer your phone when you are called back. Note: the caller ID may be that of one of our volunteers as opposed to the United Way 2-1-1 call center.

Each filer is required to obtain a Pre-

Appointment packet, complete the packet prior to their scheduled appointment and come to the appointment with all required tax documents. Pre-Appointment Packets have a complete listing of documents you are required to bring to your appointment. IRS-certified Tax-Aide volunteers will review your tax documents and complete a short interview using the required IRS intake form. After the interview is complete, the volunteer will input tax information using the software provided by the IRS.

Your tax return will be quality reviewed by another IRS Certified Tax Counselor. Once the return is completed, the Tax Counselor will review the entire return with you and obtain your permission to e-file the return. Filers are required to remain at the tax site location during the preparation process.

Please note valuable information you received in your appointment confirmation email regarding additional forms you may need for your appointment.

PRE-APPOINTMENT PACKETS

Printed packets are available at the tax site you are scheduled at during preparation hours. If you have difficulties getting to the site for packet pick-up, contact 875-475-7500.

Pre-Appointment Packet is available for download. Click on the link below.
