Betkowski takes over as GM for Renegades as Jeffers has new role

By Rich Thomaselli

New season, new leadership. There will be a change at the top for the Hudson Valley Renegades in 2024.

Tyson Jeffers is departing the Renegades to take over as the General Manager of a new minor league club in Spartanburg, South Carolina, and Zach Betkowski has been elevated to the role of General Manager of the Renegades.

The team will remain the high Class A affiliate of the New York Yankees. The Renegades won the North Division of the South Atlantic League this past season and fell to Greenville in the best of three finals, 2-0.

Jeffers served as the Renegades General Manager since 2022 and oversaw the first naming rights deal in the history of the facility as Dutchess Stadium became Heritage Financial Park. He also assisted in executing the largest privately-funded ballpark improvement project in the facility's history completed before the 2023 season, which included the renovation of the current clubhouse, the building of a new batting tunnel structure, outfield wall and batter's eye. He also worked hand-in-hand with Dutchess County in constructing the largest expansion and improvement project to the Dutchess County park since the team's inception in 1994, which will be completed before the start of the 2024 season.

In his new role, Jeffers will have the opportunity to build a new franchise from the ground up. The Spartanburg team, also owned by Diamond Baseball Holdings, will break ground on a new ballpark this November which will be part of a multi-phase over $400-million development project in downtown

Jill Biden endorses local education on stops in Fishkill, Poughkeepsie

By Kristine Coulter

First Lady Dr. Jill Biden traveled to Dutchess County to make stops in Fishkill and Poughkeepsie on October 6. Biden flew into New York Stewart International Airport in Orange County.

Biden made her way to Fishkill where she participated in the opening of the new advanced manufacturing lab at Dutchess Community College.

To mark National Manufacturing Day on Friday, October 6, the Biden Administration kicked off the Advanced Manufacturing Workforce Sprint with leaders in manufacturing and job training at the White House—the Sprint is an intensive drive to build a pipeline of workers for good jobs, including union jobs, in advanced manufacturing.

Mechatronics is "a groundbreaking new project," said Biden.

The First lady's trip was part of President Joe Biden's Investing in America Agenda. According to the White House, "companies have committed over $435 billion in private sector investments across the country."

In New York state, according to the White House:

- IBM is investing $20 billion in the Hudson Valley Region to expand quantum computing development and build out its semiconductor ecosystem.

- Micron is investing $20 billion this decade and up to $100 billion over 20 years in semiconductor manufacturing in Clay, NY, creating tens of thousands of good paying jobs.

- Anovion is investing $294 million to expand its battery-grade synthetic graphite manufacturing in Sanborn, NY, a key input into electric vehicles, clean energy storage systems, medical devices, and other industrial applications.

According to DCC's website, Mechatronics "occupies the intersection of mechanical systems, electrical systems, control systems, and computers." Some of the companies involved were OnSemi, Emagin, and MPI. The lab, according to DCC, is 6,000 sq. ft. The lab

The music of Rhinebeck Porchfest returns to rock n' roll the day away on Saturday, October 14 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the village of Rhinebeck.

Since its inception in 2016, Rhinebeck Porchfest has become a much anticipated free event for all ages to enjoy, with live performances from more than 50 local musicians and a wide variety of musical genres. Founder and Porchfest Chair Liz Mazzarella has been at the helm coordinating the event in an effort to raise funds for the Fields for Youth Campaign at the Thomas Thompson-Sally Mazzarella Park, located adjacent to the Starr Library in Rhinebeck. "We're excited to bring Porchfest back to Rhinebeck for its sixth year," said Mazzarella. "It's a great day to come out and enjoy live music, food, and community."

Thanks to the numerous volunteers and generous sponsors throughout the years, all monies raised from Rhinebeck Porchfest has pro-

Bellefield at Historic Hyde Park establishes $500,000 scholarship program for HPCSD students

Bellefield at Historic Hyde Park has established a $500,000 scholarship program to benefit graduating Hyde Park Central School District seniors in financial need who are committed to academic success, serving the Hyde Park community and attending post-high-school education.

The Bellefield-Mulroy Family Scholarship Fund, created via a community benefit agreement between Bellefield and the school district, will provide $25,000 a year for 20 years. Scholarships will be open to students pursuing a degree in education; STEM (science, technology, engineering or math); fine and performing arts; and the culinary arts. Recipients must attend a two-year or four-year college/university or vocational school in New York State.

The terms of the scholarship were determined in consultation with the Hyde Park Central School District. A committee, including a Bellefield representative, will consider potential recipients. Details on how to apply will be announced at a later date.

"Just as Bellefield is investing in Hyde Park, it's equally as important to invest in Hyde Park's youth and future," said Thomas Mulroy, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of T-Rex Capital Group LLC. "We're pleased that the Bellefield-Mulroy Family Scholarship Fund will help motivated graduates realize their dreams, decrease tuition burdens and ultimately benefit the region's quality of life for generations to come."

The Hyde Park Central School District's Board of Education and Dr. Pedro Roman, Superintendent of Schools, are appreciative of Bellefield's donation. According to the Board and Dr. Roman, "The Bellefield-Mulroy Family Scholarship Fund will support college and/or career pathways for students that will provide them with financial independence and positively shape their lives."

Hyde Park Town Supervisor Alfred (Al) Torreggiani, who was instrumental in progressing the scholarship, said, "By establishing this generous scholarship, Bellefield at Historic Hyde Park will make Hyde Park an even more attractive place to raise a family. The education of our youth always must be paramount and this scholarship – along with opportunities to eventually experience, learn from and potentially seek careers at Bellefield's many attractions – are superb investments in our future."

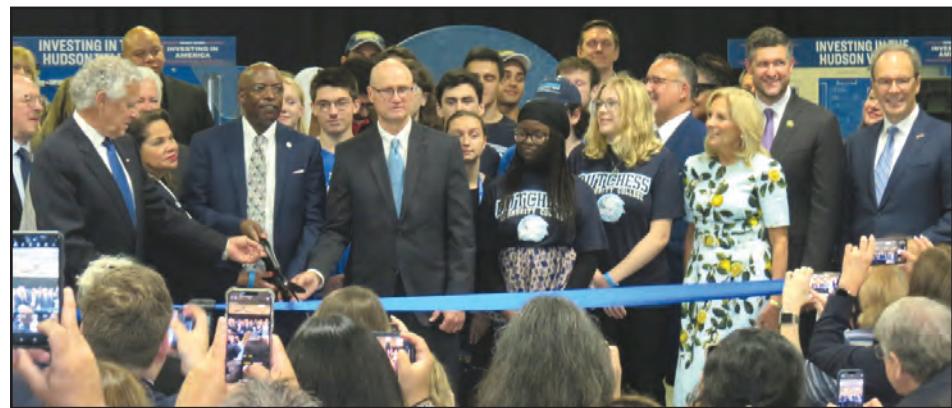

Michael Oates, President of the Hudson Valley Economic Development Corp., echoed that praise. "A singular focus for Bellefield has always been to ensure that Dutchess County remains a great place to live and work. Establishment of this impressive scholarship supports that," he said. "Bellefield, as a multi-faceted hospitality and tourism destination, will not only be an immediate boon to the local economy, but also will advance the region's growth and families for years to come."

Bellefield at Historic Hyde Park is committed to being a supportive member of the local community and looks forward to welcoming visitors to the opening of the development's first hotel, the Inn at Bellefield, in December. The Inn at Bellefield, with 137 rooms, is a $55 million project developed by T-Rex in partnership with Shaner Hotel Group, LP. It is the first of two hotels the completed development will offer. At completion, the total project will feature:

- 830,000 square feet of hospitality, commercial, and community spaces featuring restaurants, breweries, community gardens, a high-end grocer, day care, co-working spaces, a film production studio, a performing arts center and amphitheater, and much more.
- 801 residential units comprised of apartments, condominiums, townhomes, and single-family cottages, patio-homes and estate homes.

The 10 main areas of Mechatronics include:

- Electrical – AC/DC
- Pneumatics and Hydraulics
- PLC Basic & Advanced, PLC/ VFD wiring and control
- PLC Networking (ControlNet, Ethernet, HMI programming)
- Motors & Motor Controls
- Mechanical Drives
- Process Control – liquid flow and level, temperature
- Smart Factory
- Robotics
- HVAC

"A job is a lot more than an education, it's about dignity," said Biden.

Miguel Cardona, U.S. Secretary of Education, remarked, "When we reinvest in America, we raise the bar for our students."

Congressman Pat Ryan, NY-18, said, "it's important for our national security. We need to be a leader again on the world stage."

Harold King, president of the Council of Industry, said, "Everyone here knows that manufacturing is vital to our economy." He noted where DCC@Fishkill was once an empty department store in the former Dutchess Mall.

Dutchess County Executive William F.X. O'Neil remarked, "Dutchess County is proud to be supporting" these endeavors. He told those in attendance the first step was the "successful launch" of the aviation program at DCC, which began in 2021.

"Dutchess County is serious about investing in our future," said O'Neil. "This is an amazing new facility," he added.

Dr. Peter Grant Jordan, president of Dutchess Community College, said, Mechatronics is "a testament" to the partnership between DCC and Dutchess County.

DCC student Robert Bohl, who introduced the first lady, said the lab "isn't just a place - it's a bridge" that helps students like him transition into the workforce.

Town of Fishkill Supervisor Ozzy Albra, who has two children that have attended DCC, said "It's an honor to have the First Lady of the United States here." The supervisor added that he is glad to have DCC in Fishkill.

After her remarks at DCC, Biden left to visit the DAY ONE Early Learning Community in Poughkeepsie. While there Biden, who is a professor at Northern Virginia Community College in Virginia, discussed the importance of early childhood education. She met with co-founders Geraldine Laybourne and Dr. Julie Riess along with Joscelyn Lucas, Teacher Apprentice, and Kerry Scarlet, Graduate, DAY ONE Teacher Apprenticeship Program and owns a Group Family Care Business.

Biden then delivered remarks at the Reformed Church of Poughkeepsie.

Spartanburg. The team is slated to play their first season of affiliated baseball in 2025.

"It is always emotional to leave a place that you have invested so much into, and at a time that so much growth is happening, but I have peace of mind knowing that I am leaving it in the hands of a dedicated group that is determined to make this one of the top minor league teams in the country," said Jeffers in a statement. "What is happening with the Renegades is truly special, and I am excited to watch Zach lead the organization to new heights. I will always be a Renegade at heart, and I am blessed to have had the opportunity to be part of a transformative period of Renegades history. Go 'Gades!"

"Tyson has made a tremendous impact on the success of the Renegades and the Hudson Valley community, and we're thrilled to offer him the opportunity to create something equally as special in Spartanburg," said Pat Battle and Peter Freund, DBH Executive Chairman and CEO, respectively. "We recognize in Zach an exceptional talent and are confident he will build on the Renegades' incredible legacy as they enter into the franchise's 30th anniversary next year."

Betkowski steps into the General Manager role after serving as the team's Assistant General Manager since September 2022. He joined the Renegades in March 2021 as the team's Director of Corporate Partnerships after four seasons with the Lehigh Valley IronPigs, the Triple-A affiliate of the Philadelphia Phillies.

"It's a great day to be a Renegade," said Betkowski. "Since I've arrived in the Hudson Valley, my family and I have fallen in love with this area, and I'm thrilled that I can continue to answer the call as a community leader in my role as General Manager. We have a tremendous staff here with the Renegades that I am proud to roll up my sleeves with every day. We look forward to the Renegades continuing to be the premier destination for affordable, family fun in the Hudson Valley, while also leading the charge as community pioneers that are dedicated to serving others."

Adriance Memorial Library's 125th Founder's Day set Oct. 21

The Poughkeepsie Public Library District invites the all to Adriance Memorial Library's 125th Anniversary with the Founders' Day celebration on Saturday, October 21 from 1-3 p.m.

The free event will be held at Adriance Library's 93 Market Street location, which boasts an Italianate style Beaux Arts building designed by Charles Frederick Rose. The celebration honors the original dedication by the Adriance family in 1898. As part of the anniversary, there will be an exhibit about the Library's history, activities inspired by the late 1800's, and food for patrons to enjoy.

Featured will be an 1890s historical exhibition displaying an Edison phonograph that plays wax cylinder records, and a stereoscope viewer like the one invented in the mid-1800s by Sir Charles Wheatstone. These and other artifacts will be on display in the Library's Local History room. Attendees will be able to peruse other artifacts from the Adriance family and their business, Adriance, Platt & Co., such as photographs and memorabilia.

You can also snack as you would in the Gay Nineties, on penny candy favorites like Tootsie Rolls and Mary Janes, doughnuts, and cider. To top off your experience, pose in an 1890s costume photo booth, where you can get your picture taken.

In a nod to the support of the Adriance family, and to honor their work, there will be a food drive for non-perishable food items for attendees to give back to the community. The food drive will be in support of Dutchess Outreach.

AFD taxpayers can weigh in on budget increase at Oct. 16 hearing

To the editor:

Taxpayers in the Arlington Fire District (AFD), in the town of Poughkeepsie, will have a chance to comment on the outrageous 13.4 percent tax increase that the fire commissioners have adopted in the 2024 proposed budget. The budget hearing will be on Monday, October 16, at 6 p.m. at the Red Oaks Mill Firehouse, 213 Vassar Road.

The tax increase is way, way over the state's two percent tax cap. This will be the third time in four consecutive budgets that AFD has gone over the tax cap. The taxes have increased about 31 percent over the four-budget period. Meanwhile, the fire district has overspent their budget for the last three years and has done nothing to curb spending. It's out of control.

The budget will increase by $3 million for a total $25 million budget. Taxpayers in the Arlington Fire District have long paid more for fire taxes than for town or county taxes, and it continues to get worse.

This time the commissioners have added nearly a million dollars to start an in-house ambulance service. That amount is apparently expected to only cover about six months. This is apparently just the beginning of probably a multimillion-dollar venture driven by hubris as verbalized by one of the commissioners who said, "I think it would be the best service in the Hudson Valley and beyond and nobody can provide the service that our department can do."

Taxpayers need to use this one opportunity they have in this process to voice their concerns by attending the budget hearing on October 16.

Jim Beretta

The truth about 'war within' our country

To the editor:

I am responding to "Hoping America Survives The War Within," letter which appeared in the Sept. 20 editions.

The war within our country started several years ago when the politically motivated, with pure hatred for a president was targeted before he was even elected. Americans witnessed the political and economic downfall of our beloved USA and wanted someone who would put the American people first, not what politicians and "special interest" groups saw as their right.

We have always known a significant portion of elected officials were corrupt and gave "leeway" to that knowledge as Washington reasonably functioned. Donald Trump pulled the curtain back on how bad it really was. We have been lied to for years by the political elites and they have and will do anything to stop the truth.

Donald Trump gave up a life most could only dream of to preserve our way of life for future generations, and that comes at the ultimate cost for some. Never taking presidential salary, he loves our country, defends the Constitution.

Joe Biden is systematically destroying our economy, immigration laws, military, energy independence and most important the respect of allies and fear of enemies. Over 70% feel they are worse off today than three years ago. How can anyone defend Biden's continuous lies, racial insults and most of all corruption and bad political judgments his entire career? As a NY'er, his claim to have been at Ground Zero on 9/11, is repulsive.

And who has been charged with insurrection? No one!

We the people have every right to question an election, every right to receive answers from those being questioned. Deep blue NY was 40% for Trump in 2020, with all the questionable changes made during the election there was a basis to want answers. The January 6th riot was a set-up by our government, to edge on the crowd into destruction and now political prisoners are being treated like they are in a 3rd world country. If the mainstream media was not in the Democratic pocket, the news would not be biased and more would know the truth.

"Make America Great Again" is what MAGA stands for. We are the millions upon millions who support freedom and a Constitutional Republic. We are not going away.

No country is perfect or has not made mistakes. We learn and find a better way. The government does not make our lives better. We make it better without the government.

In God We Trust.

Some 20 different companies produced clear and colored glass during this period such as Hazel Atlas, Hocking, Indiana, Fenton, Federal, and Westmoreland. While the club has continued this tradition for the last 51 years, it has grown to now include all 20th century American glass companies and items such as American pottery companies, some well-known ones are Roseville, McCoy, Hall, Shawnee, Spaulding and Haegar, American China companies such as Blue Ridge, Franciscan, Lenox, Lotus ware, Pickard, Homer Laughlin and Bauer, and vintage kitchen items and accessories.

Drew Thorpe recognized at MLB awards show

By Rich Thomaselli

WAPPINGERS FALLS – The season might have ended a couple of games short of the South Atlantic League championship, but the accolades keep rolling in for the Hudson Valley Renegades.

Former Renegades pitcher Drew Thorpe was named Minor League Pitching Prospect of the Year by Major League Baseball during MLB's inaugural Minor League Baseball Awards Show.

That's pretty good for a debut summer. In his first professional season, Thorpe was sensational across 23 starts between the Renegades and Double-A Somerset Patriots. He led all Minor League pitchers in strikeouts (182), and was second in WHIP (0.98), tied for second in wins (14), fourth in ERA (2.52), and sixth in opponent's batting average (.200). He led the South Atlantic League in ERA, wins, opponent's batting average, WHIP, and winning percentage (.833).

Thorpe was previously named South Atlantic League Pitching Prospect of the Year.

In 18 starts with the Renegades, Thorpe set new single-season franchise records for wins (10), and strikeouts (138). He set the Renegades single-game strikeout record when he punched out 13 Brooklyn Cyclones batters on July 22. In addition to leading the SAL in wins and ERA (2.81), Thorpe finished second in strikeouts, falling one strikeout shy of winning the SAL Pitching Triple Crown.

The right-hander was named SAL Pitcher of the Month for June after posting a 0.31 ERA (1 ER/28.2 IP) with 34 strikeouts and just six walks. At one point, Thorpe had a 28.1-inning scoreless streak from May 28-June 25, the longest streak by a South Atlantic League pitcher in 2023.

Thorpe, 22, was drafted in the second round of the 2022 First-Year Player Draft by the Yankees out of Cal Poly. After being promoted to the Somerset Patriots on Aug. 8, he went on to be named Eastern League Pitcher of the Month for August.

Dutchess County hosts NYS 4-H Shooting Sports Championships

This fall, the 2023 NYS 4-H Shooting sports championship was hosted by Dutchess County 4-H for the first time.

A total of 55 4-H members from across the state competed in seven disciplines. The event was generously hosted by the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club, Woodstock and at Maish Freedman's property, the old Bulkeley School in Rhinebeck.

Dutchess County took home honors in two of the seven disciplines: air rifle and archery. We would like to thank all of the volunteers and instructors that took the time to make this event a success!

Youth in our county are incredibly lucky to have opportunities such as this. Reach out to the 4-H office if you would like to support this program and/or become involved in any way.

Four ways estate planning helps protect your family

By John Genn
Senior Trust Officer
Tompkins Financial Advisors

With summer behind us and fall just getting started, many folks are in short-term future planning mode: what are our back-to-school or holiday plans? What milestones are being marked? What cold weather festivities are on the docket? For most, long-term intentions like estate planning do not come to mind, but if you don't have your affairs in order, the fall and winter seasons can make for a great opportunity to get started.

Even if you aren't personally planning for what comes next, you may have loved ones who should consider these steps. While it's not pleasant to think about, you may be the person who is responsible for sorting out the affairs of a loved one or close friend. There will also come a time when you need to think about yourself and your own family. Taking steps to plan for you and your family's future and protecting your assets is not a move you want to hesitate to make.

Simply put, estate planning is writing down what you want to happen to your finances, personal items, and other assets after you pass away. This is commonly accomplished using a Will, trusts, advance directives, or beneficiary designations on specific accounts. If you don't have an estate plan in place, you force your loved ones to guess what you wanted to happen with your hard-earned savings and most beloved and treasured items, which can potentially add so much additional stress to your loved ones during an already emotional time. By creating an estate plan, you generously give your family the necessary steps to take to make sure you are honored properly.

Still hesitant? Here are four ways estate planning can protect you and your family:

1. Protect your assets and your wishes: Without an estate plan, your money, property, and other belongings may not go to the people, person, or organization(s) of your choice. Additionally, some people who receive their inheritance in one lump sum could be at risk of spending it recklessly. By creating an estate plan, you can identify specific inheritance amounts or items for certain beneficiaries or family members, like children or grandchildren.

If you have not established a Will before you pass away, a process called dying intestate begins, according to New York State law. The State has a pre-determined succession line for those who receive money and property left behind. In most cases, if the State can't find any immediate family members, your personal estate and belongings will go to the State where you passed away and additionally, the court will appoint an Administrator to handle your estate who might not be a family member, or anyone who even knew you.

2. Protect your dependents: If not for the sake of your assets, having an estate plan is imperative if you have dependents. While no one wants to think about leaving their young children early, planning for childcare if both parents pass on will protect your children after your passing. It's most important to name someone you trust as their legal guardian in case you are no longer around. Although it can be uncomfortable having a conversation about who this will be, such as your parents, in-laws, sibling, or a trusted friend, setting up an estate plan can prevent arguing among family members, and potential custody battles, and protect the well-being of your children.

3. Protect your personal life: If a person passes away without a Will, in order for a family member to claim their belongings, a probate process must begin. Probate is the formal legal process that gives recognition to a will and appoints the executor or personal representative who will administer the estate and distribute assets to the intended beneficiaries. The probate process in most states takes a minimum of seven months to allow family members to put through claims for your belongings. In addition, claim hearings are public processes, which means your personal business can potentially be aired to everyone and anyone. This process can also be expensive, and high legal costs will reduce the final amount your loved ones inherit, not to mention give them unnecessary additional stress and worry. It is possible to avoid the probate process and ensure a smooth transition of your assets to your loved ones by planning your estate ahead of time.

4. Protect against taxes: Different states have different estate or inheritance tax thresholds, but the best way to plan for these taxes, and possibly reduce them, is to have an estate plan in place. If your heir inherits a traditional IRA, they will need to pay income tax on the money they inherit and withdraw. If a spouse, dependent, or other heir inherits a Roth IRA that was funded for five years or more prior to your death, withdrawals or distributions can be taken tax-free. Most states will also charge what is nicknamed the "death tax", a.k.a. an estate tax. Advanced planning can help you plan and manage these different taxes and thus benefit your heirs as best you can.

Mahavishnu Project to bring classic jazz-rock fusion to Pawling

The Mahavishnu Project will perform at Daryl's House Club in Pawling on Sunday, Oct. 15, at 7 p.m.

The group has become well-known for reaching into the jazz-rock repertoire beyond the John McLaughlin-led Mahavishnu Orchestra to include songs of Jeff Beck, featuring guitar virtuoso Robbie Mangano (Sean Lennon/Tom Morello), keyboardist Neil Alexander (The Machine/Eric Person) and bassist Brian Mooney, joining drummer and bandleader Gregg Bendian - well-known for his work with Todd Rundgren, Jan Hammer, Pat Metheny, Nels Cline and Ornette Coleman.

The Mahavishnu Project was founded by Bendian in 2001, during a time of far less attention for "classic jazz-rock fusion." The band is back in action, this time to perform the entire "Birds of Fire" album, the 1973 classic of jazz-rock fusion music, with new interpretations of the music of Jeff Beck and Jan Hammer in a bonus set of Beck's "Wired" and "Blow By Blow" material, played in honor of the late/great guitar hero.

McLaughlin himself has praised the Mahavishnu Project:

"Just a little note of appreciation for what you are bringing back to life," he wrote. "This musical period was the beginning of finding my own way in music, and to hear you guys playing those tunes in such an unbelievable way is quite amazing. Great job!! Keep up the good work."

For more information: <http://mahavishnuproject.com/>.

Daryl's House Club is at 130 Route 22 in Pawling. Reservations are recommended; call (845) 289-0185 or visit www.darylshouseclub.com.

'Dig'

Mark and Sue attend an off-Broadway play about a flower shop.

A dramatic play that takes place inside a flower shop? Last one I can remember was "Little Shop of Horrors" (which was actually a musical). Now along comes "Dig," written and directed by Theresa Rebeck, set in a modest flower shop – dig – in a down-at-the-heels neighborhood somewhere in Ohio.

Sue and I just had to go see it.

Right off the bat, we felt at home. Set designers Christopher and Justin Swader had created a flower shop so realistic that I wanted to get out of my seat at the 59E59 theater, jump on stage and buy a cut leaf philodendron. There were even bags of Miracle-Gro fertilizer. So, to paraphrase Chekhov, I was looking forward to a plant-feeding demonstration. Of course the shop owner, Roger, played by Jeffrey Bean – a dead ringer for legendary local florist Everett Rood – loves plants more than people.

And, of course, before the curtain falls, he will learn to open his heart to his fellow humans, including drug-addled Megan, played to the hilt by Andrea Syglowski. Along the way, we endure much sturm and drang, and to my surprise, learn an awful lot about botany:

• Water – The customer is always wrong. Roger upbraids his first customer of the day, who brings in a shriveled houseplant and seeks some expert advice. "Do you know what water is?" Roger yells. Plants need water to survive. That's lesson #1.

• Fertilizer – Ah, the Chekhov movement. Roger explains, as he takes the Miracle-Gro fertilizer down from the shelf, that plants, just like children, need food to grow. And fertilizer is plant food.

• Repotting – As Megan worms her way into Roger's life, she points out that some of the plants in his shop need repotting. Roger treats us to a soliloquy on the merits of repotting. When the roots struggle to find space, they can't take up enough moisture and fertilizer to support the growing foliage. Later in the play, Megan replaces most of Roger's green foliage houseplants with vibrant colorful violets, kalanchoes and gerbera daisies.

• Photosynthesis – Without the ability of green plants to turn sunlight into sugar, life would not exist on earth. Roger goes so deeply into the process, he puts his onstage audience, and maybe a few others, to sleep. The green pigment chlorophyll absorbs the sun's energy, using it to turn carbon dioxide and water into oxygen and sugar.

• Marijuana is legal – Dig's delivery guy, played by Greg Keller – the only original cast member from the play's premiere at Vermont's Dorset Theater Festival in 2018 – is continuously stoned; but Roger, set in his ways, has trouble accepting the new normal.

"Dig" runs off Broadway at 59E59 through October 22. It's worth checking out, especially if you're a florist, or have ever set foot in a flower shop.

The Kimlin Cider Mill is hosting its annual Cider Tasting from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, October 14. The old cider mill at 140 Cedar Avenue in Poughkeepsie was a falling down mess in 2000 when a group of insane people, including my mother Doris, decided to save it from the bulldozers. Lo and behold, they succeeded. Kimlin Cider Mill is now a national historic landmark. I attended last year's cider tasting and was impressed by the variety of hard ciders from local vendors and the progress of the restoration. Get there early – parking is almost nonexistent.

Sudoku requires no arithmetic skills.

The object of the game is to fill all the blank squares with the correct numbers.

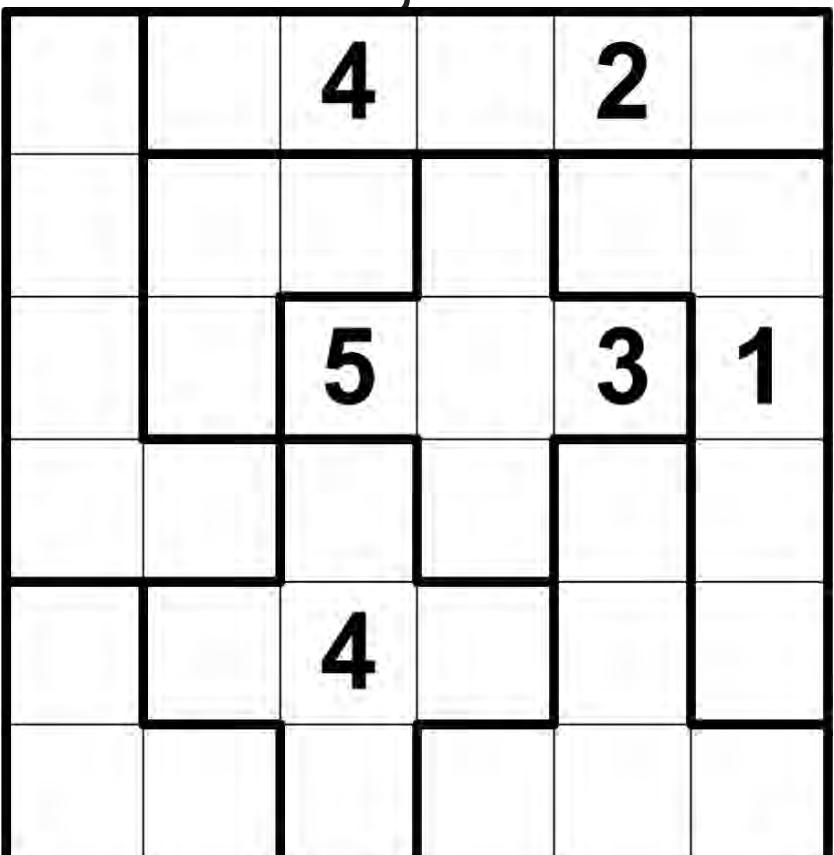

Each row of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each column of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each 3 by 3 subsection of the 9 by 9 square must include all digits 1 through 9.

Great Swamp Celebration

set Oct 21, 22 in Pawling

Friends, supporters, members, and all residents in the surrounding communities are invited to join FrOGS (Friends of the Great Swamp) for a weekend celebrating the awesome beauty, incalculable value, and prominent benefits of the Great Swamp.

The "27th Annual Celebration of the Great Swamp" will take place on Saturday and Sunday, October 21 and 22 at Christ Church on Quaker Hill, 17 Church Road in Pawling. The Celebration will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and noon to 4 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is free to all.

The event will feature educational exhibits as well as many hands-on activities for children, who will receive a Game Pack booklet and a "Passport to Fun" to document their travels through the event. Activities will include Master Falconer Jim Eyring's popular "Birds of Prey" demonstration (both days). Exhibits include a hands-on watershed demonstration table, live swamp animals, a macro-invertebrate display (insects, worms, crayfish), a clay animal sculpting table, and a matching animal-to-habitat game. The drawing for a Kayak Raffle and other prizes will occur Sunday afternoon.

A highlight of the Celebration is a juried Art Show and sale. Last year, the Art Show featured more than 60 artists with over 100 works of painting, drawing, collage, and photography competing for cash prizes. It has been considered to be the finest autumn show of painting, plein air work, collage, textile art and photography in the Lower Hudson Valley. Colorful and inventive interpretations of the plants and animals of The Great Swamp created by students from local schools will greatly enliven the show. There will also be a vendor section with local arts and crafts for sale, including pottery, silk and woven scarves, and jewelry.

This annual event celebrates the Great Swamp, a 6,000-acre wetland stretching 20 miles through a valley at the eastern edge of the Hudson Highlands, from Dover in Dutchess County to Brewster in Putnam County. Although one of the largest freshwater wetlands in the state and called one of New York's "last great places", it remains mostly unknown to people who live beyond the watershed's borders. FrOGS hosts the Celebration to bring attention to the value of the Great Swamp and to encourage its conservation as a source of clean water, a site for recreation, and a home for diverse and rare wildlife.

The Fall Celebration is FrOGS' major fund-raising event of the year. The money raised will be used to further educational efforts, produce newsletters, undertake water quality testing, monitor rare species, and promote and protect the Great Swamp. For more information on the Great Swamp and FrOGS, the schedule of events for the "27th Annual Celebration of the Great Swamp" or other upcoming events such as hikes and paddles, visit www.frogs-ny.org.

Poughkeepsie Harvest Fest set Saturday

By Rich Thomaselli

Now all we have to do is hope for great weather.

The Poughkeepsie Harvest Fest will be held on Saturday, October 14, from 3 to 7:30 p.m. The event will take place at the Barns at the Vassar Ecological Preserve.

Poughkeepsie Harvest Fest is being put on by the Poughkeepsie Farm Project, a 501(c)3 non-profit organization dedicated to local leadership in sustainable farming, food access, and education, while fostering an inclusive and welcoming community for all.

The event will include:

- Culinary Delights: Local culinary artisans will showcase their talents, crafting exquisite soups using fresh produce cultivated at Poughkeepsie Farm Project.

- Musical Magic: Groove to the sounds of The Big Takeover Band, as well as Callie Mackenzie. Now throw in DJ Wisdom, a renowned music maestro who will set the perfect mood.

- Artistry on Display: Explore a gallery of exquisitely handcrafted pottery bowls by local artists from Fall Kill Creative Works' Clay Works, adding an artistic flair to the celebration.

As long as rain doesn't dampen the day, it should be a fun time as a little bit of fall comes to Poughkeepsie.

SPORT SHORTS

Rhinebeck golf team bests Dover

By Rich Thomaselli

Ah, if only we could golf like this as a teenager.

James Jacox earned medalist honors with a 47 to lead the Rhinebeck High School golf team to a 192-208 victory over Dover. The Dragons' Nick Beebe tied for medalist honors, also with a 47.

The Hawks had good bunching as a team.

Sam Fleming, Nico Dentico and Ace Cole shot 48, 49 and 48, respectively.

Spackenkill remains unbeaten

By Rich Thomaselli

The matches were a little more difficult, but the results were the same.

The Spackenkill High School girls tennis team is still undefeated in the Mid-Hudson Athletic League. The Spartans beat both New Paltz and Highland by the identical scores of 3-2 to move to 6-1 overall and 6-0 in the league.

Against New Paltz, Spackenkill lost

the first two singles matches before roaring back for the win behind Josephine Ragusa at third singles and the doubles teams of Angelina Kim and Qadira Scheidelman, and Lauren Jameson and Julia McCloskey.

In the win over Highland, it was the singles players who took the spotlight.

Elena Sung, Katie Park and Ragusa all won their singles matches to block in the victory for the Spartans.

OLL topples Red Hook

By Rich Thomaselli

RED HOOK -- Julia Gigliotti had both goals as the Our Lady of Lourdes High School girls soccer team beat Red Hook, 2-0, in a Mid-Hudson Athletic League game.

Ryleigh Calimano and Jadyne Menuau were credited with the assist.

It was a superb defensive performance by the Warriors who allowed the Raiders only two shots on goal. Both were saved by Cassie Gallagher, who had a clean sheet. Her counterpart, Isabella Faraldi of Red Hook, had eight saves.

"Lourdes is a very skilled team that comes at you in waves," Red Hook coach Jason Pavlich said. "We stayed with them for as long as we could, but Gigliotti's speed and skill ended up being the difference."

Red Hook is now 4-5 overall and plays Rondout Valley this week.

Family Services announced the successful completion of the "50 Meaningful Miles" run by its CEO, Leah Feldman, on September 30. This 50-mile journey served as a symbol of resilience, unity, and the unwavering commitment to support individuals facing life's challenges. Feldman embarked on this physically and emotionally demanding run to raise awareness and critical funds for Family Services. Her determination and the symbolic significance of this run have garnered widespread attention and support. The run took place under challenging weather conditions, with rain persisting for eight relentless hours. Feldman started at the Ulster end of the Walkway at 4 a.m., navigating pitch-dark surroundings for the first three hours. Wet leaves and technical terrain made the 20 miles through Mohonk particularly demanding. Courtesy photo

In addition to her parents, Joan was predeceased by three brothers, Thomas Murphy and his wife, Jean, Christopher Murphy and Joseph Murphy and his wife, Martha and two sisters, Margaret (Peggy) Thompson and her husband, Kenneth and Jane Matta and her husband, George. She was also predeceased by two nephews, Thomas Murphy and Joseph Flynn and two nieces, Karen Murphy and Deirdre Epstein.

National Audiology Awareness Month with a Free Hearing Evaluation!

October is National Audiology Awareness Month, so now is the perfect time to receive a Free Hearing Evaluation and Video Otoscope Exam at your local Miracle-Ear® Hearing Center.

A licensed Hearing Instrument Specialist will use a tiny, flexible camera to look inside your ear canal and examine any issues you may be experiencing.

No pain and most importantly - at no cost to you!

From there, we will use an audiometer to thoroughly test your range of hearing. Your results will provide you with a baseline assessment of your hearing health, giving that true "peace of mind" feeling. Regardless of our findings, whether it's simply earwax or actual loss causing your problems, we'll work together to find the right solution for you.

After the completion of these simple exams, you will also receive a FREE $20 Olive Garden or Applebee's Gift Card. This is a great opportunity to discuss your better journey while treating your loved ones to a fun-filled outing!

Your reason to celebrate starts now!

Call 1-888-387-3068 today.
