

VETERANS DAY 2024 Veteran John Yurus at 100 – Proud member of 'The Greatest Generation'

U.S. Navy Veteran from World War II, John Yurus, with his son Michael, in his Wappingers Falls residence.

By Jim Donick

John Yurus of Wappingers Falls is a Navy Veteran from the Second World War. He's also 100 years old. That makes him one of the last survivors of what has been called "The Greatest Generation." His life is a perfect illustration of the meaning of that saying. Yurus was born in 1924 and reared in the Slovak section of Yonkers. "You knew pret-ty much where anybody lived in Yonkers in those days by their last name," he says. "The Irish and the Slovaks were one place, the Poles had their part of town, and so on."

As a teenager, he met a young Irish American girl, Margaret Mary O'Brien. To hear him tell it "We began holding hands." That, in those days was significant. Life was moving along.

On Dec. 7, 1941, life changed. That was the day the Japanese Empire attacked Pearl Harbor in the Pacific. John Yurus knew he wanted to serve. He was still just a little young. He should have finished high school the following spring. That early in the war, the government preferred to take men who were over 18. That gave John time to prepare himself.

His brother, Eddie, had gone into the Army before the United States was officially in the war. He would go on to serve in the liberation of North Africa. Eddie told him to avoid the Army if you don't want to march everywhere or slog through mud and anything else you came across. The food was another issue. The wisdom of Eddie's advice was apparent.

John Yurus heeded his brother's advice and enlisted as soon as he could. He joined the Navy. He says, "I liked the idea of not sleeping in the mud, riding everywhere we had to go and taking our kitchen with us.'

'Save Vassar -Warner' effort begins with new leadership

Vassar-Warner Home, Dutchess County's only nonprofit senior living facility, was forced to begin efforts to shutter its doors and relocate its resi-dents in October after 153 years of serving hundreds of senior citizens in the greater Hudson Valley. With just two residents remaining in the Home, a grassroots movement, "Save Vassar-Warner," has gained momentum in the community, resulting in leadership changes and a final bid to secure the funding needed to keep the Home operational.

As of October 17, Ellen Smyth, pres-ident of Vassar-Warner Home's board of trustees, resigned from her position and Rich Schuster, who filled one of the 18 vacancies on the board, was subsequently elected president.

Schuster, whose mother is one of the two remaining residents, is spearhead-ing the "Save Vassar-Warner" move-ment, representing the Home's residents and their families, as well as its employ-ees. He is actively working to secure the funding needed to meet the upproce ees. He is actively working to secure the funding needed to meet the unprece-dented and critical senior housing and services needs the Home has faithfully provided for more than a century. In doing so, Schuster continues to have promising discussions with Will Truitt, the chair of the Dutchess County Legislature, and Sue Serino, Dutchess County Executive, among others. "My mother, Dorothy, now 86 years of age, has called Vassar-Warner Home her home for the last 19 years," said Schuster. "After a lifetime of commit-ment from her, I feel that it is my duty to save this establishment not only for her save this establishment not only for her but for the hundreds of seniors that have come through the doors of the Home over the last 153 years. I am confident that, with the community's help, we can secure a bright future for this pillar of the Hudson Valley."

As stipulated by the County, Vassar-Warner Home has enacted leadership warner Home has enacted leadership changes and is actively working to obtain stopgap funding, enabling the board of trustees to continue discussions with local and regional leadership. With hopes of providing another 153 years of unparalleled service to the Hudson Valley at large, Vassar-Warner Home is on a mission to reason its doors. on a mission to reopen its doors.

"Rich brings substantial business acu-men to our Board of Trustees and continues to demonstrate impeccable lead-ership on behalf of Vassar-Warner Home's extended family," said Wayne Juint. president. Vassar-Warner Home Foundation. "We are confident that, as president of the board, Rich will secure a bright future that is reflective of the Home's long and storied history. In an email to residents that went out last week, Town officials said a meeting was held on Oct. 24 with the legal team for the Town of Fishkill. The legal team has the Town Attorney and two Independent Counsels on it. The counsels were hired "specifically to represent the interests of the Town in this process," it was stated. Also taking part in the meeting were representatives for the Empire State Development, the developer, Conifer, Beacon City School District and Glenham Fire District representatives and Town of Fishkill Supervisor Ozzy Albra. To be accepted into the Navy at that point in the effort he had to be able to swim. He used some of the time waiting to be old enough to go. "I spent hours practicing swimming," he recalls. "For the Navy, I think we had to be able to stay afloat for three hours or something like that." He signed in on April 25, 1943 - the day before he turned 19. He immediately went to Boot Camp in Sampson, NY. He graduated with Company 251 on June 10. From there, it was off to advanced training, and he came out a Torpedo Man 3rd class.

"I wanted to go into submarines and passed all of the tests, physical and mental, including not being subject to claustrophobia," he recalls. "When the class graduated, it looked like they took the first 60 or so names and I was at the end of the alphabet. After a week without orders, I presented myself to the personnel guys, who told me I was AWOL. I convinced them my name wasn't on the list. It turned out that it had been under a staple on the second page of the original list and when it was retyped they didn't see my name. I ended up going to the Chesapeake Bay to test new torpedo improvements."

U.S. torpedoes hadn't performed well at that point. "We were working with the U.S. Naval Torpedo Station, a naval munitions factory on the banks of the Potomac River in Old Town, Alexandria, Virginia," he says. Torpedoes had to run "true" when they were fired or they would miss the target or, worse they could circle back. "We loaded the war heads with sodium to match the weight of the explosive it would otherwise have and then we'd shoot them to see how they ran. Sometimes they went in a circle and came back and hit our ship after we had shot it. With no warhead, the worst thing that happened was our boat got dented. I think I was torpedoed that way a lot more than once," he remembers.

One sidelight of that duty was that some of the torpedo fuel was basically alcohol. "The guys called it 'Pink lady.' I seem to remember a lot of it being consumed," he said smiling.

In late 1944 or early '45, it was time to move off to the Pacific. John Yurus went by train to Los Angeles and took a ship off to the war zone. "We were headed for the Marianas, or maybe to Okinawa," he says. "Maybe we were also part of the plan for the final invasion of Japan."

Thankfully for John Yurus, the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki brought about an end to the war. "The sent us back to the Philippines," he recalls.

John Yurus returned home aboard the USS Rawlins.

During the period in the Philippines there was time for Yurus to see something other than the deck of his ship.

The war in the Philippine's had been brutal. The Japanese commanding officer, General Tomoyuki Yamashita surrendered to the Americans on Aug. 15. After the war, Yamashita was tried for war crimes committed by troops under his command during the Japanese defense of the occupied Philippines in 1944. His war crimes trial was to take place in the Philippines during the time John Yurus was there. "I got a chance to attend a number of sessions of the various war crimes trials," he remembers. "The most important of them was that of General Yamashita, the last Japanese Commanding General in the Philippines." Soon the time in the Philippines was coming to an end. Thousands of soldiers and sailors were finally going home. John Yurus was one of them. He received his orders to return to the United States on the USS Rawlins.

When they got to the USA, he and the rest of the soldiers presented themselves to find out where they were to go and to get orders home. The lists were all over the walls and even on the floor. It was a madhouse. The typed lists of names from so many ships bringing back troops had so little organization, because there were not enough yeomen to handle the load. "I asked a yeoman where I might find the list with my name on it. He told me to go away, he was busy. 'Just keep looking,'" he said. So I kept looking and found the list for the Rawlins on the floor with a couple of footprints on it. At least I could find my name."

From there it was all about going home. Waiting at the train was Margaret Mary O'Brien, thankful to have him home. They married and raised a family. "She was my best friend," he says wist-

"She was my best friend," he says wistfully. They had been married for 75 years when she passed away. "But we'd been holding hands for 80," he says.

It was remarked that the Town of Fishkill "does not support" the building of another school. The reason for that offered was the burden of the cost that the taxpayers would have to bear.

The email stated: "All parties left the meeting with a better understanding of the issues that are most important to our community. A high-density residential development is not in our Town's best interest. Then again neither is a vacant prison that will further deteriorate over time and never contribute to our community. What is needed is a proposal in which all of the residents can benefit from."

Flora Stadler, the president of the Beacon City School District Board of Education, stated via email to Southern Dutchess News, "The Board's greatest concern is the impact of this proposed development on school enrollment and resources." Stadler noted, "The increased tax revenue that may result from the project would provide little relief to the District, which can expect a sharp spike in pupil and administrative costs. The Board shared these concerns in a letter to the Governor, and repeated them in the recent meeting with the developer and other stakeholders. During this meeting, the developers said they would use whatever formula the district recommended for estimating the potential number of students, which is a positive step.'

It was noted in the email to Fishkill residents that "the original proposed project had three story structures. These structures would require a ladder truck, a new garage for the truck and a multitude of training for fire members. The cost of this would be in the millions. Supervisor Albra and the Fire Commissioners made clear that the cost would be an unacceptable financial burden on residents and suggested to the developer that they change the project to not require the need for ladder truck and expansion of the Fire Department."

According to the response from the Glenham Fire District (GFD), John Steele, Chairman for the District, said the members support the redevelopment of the former correctional site, but do not agree with the current proposal exclusively for residential use.

Among the concerns that Steele, and the District officials, noted in its response, are:

- The parcel is not currently within any fire district in the town of Fishkill

- GFD, which borders the parcel on all sides, has for many years had a contract with Downstate Correctional to provide fire protection

- Affirmative action by the Fishkill Town Board and acceptance by a majority of the Board of Fire Commissioners would be needed to expand the GFD to include the current proposal size and scope.

"If this parcel is developed as proposed, it would effectively increase the population of the GFD by approximately 40 percent," according to Steele.

- The GFD would need more personnel to train

- Concerns of increased traffic and delaying response times possibly as a result

- Concerns about the availability of water surprise

During the meeting the types of units were discussed. According to the email sent to residents the "type of units is of the utmost importance."

Kristin Devoe, a spokesperson for Gov. Hochul, said, "As part of the development of Downstate Correctional Facility a series of meetings are underway with the surrounding communities and stakeholders which are being used to inform the final site plan for the development of the site. Additional outreach with local stakeholders and the public are expected before a final site plan is determined."

An inquiry to the developer asking for comment was noted immediately answered.

"The Supervisor stressed the need for senior housing as well as some veteran housing. A mix of housing units with some commercial property would be most beneficial for the Town. He discussed the need for water and sewer connections to benefit surrounding developments. The need for sidewalks," it was stated.

Applause to all caregivers

To the Editor:

As a Dementia Care Practitioner I wish to applaud, rather loudly, ALL CAREGIVERS! If you are a Direct Support Professional you are a Caregiver, if you are a Family Member or Friend helping someone, you are a Caregiver! If you are a Neighbor helping another Neighbor, you are a Caregiver! If you are a Teacher or in the Medical field, you are a Caregiver! If you are a First responder, you are a Caregiver! If you work in a Care Facility or are a Social Worker, you are a Caregiver!

Caregivers make up a large portion of our society and sadly are paid one of the lowest fees or no fee at all!

We as a society undervalue those who Partner in Care with those individuals and their families who need assistance!

Businesses often do not recognize that an employee of theirs may be suffering with Caregiver burnout because of a personal matter! This needs to change! Those in charge need to educate themselves on their employees life situations in order to not only better assist them at home but in their jobs as well!

SUPPORT AND CARE FOR THE CAREGIVER IS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE! They are NUMBER 1 !

If you know someone who needs support reach out to the Office of Aging at 845-486-2555 or the Alzheimers Association at 800-272-3900 or the Mental Health Association at 845-473-2500 option 0 or if you are caring for a Veteran call 845-486-2060. There are many organizations that are available to help!

Help is out there just make the Call!

Gratitude expressed to Barrett for help in advancing Melanie's Law

To the Editor:

We write today to express our deep gratitude to Assemblywoman Didi Barrett for her pivotal role in advancing Melanie's Law. Named after Melanie Chianese, a woman from Dutchess County who lost her life to domestic violence. As sponsors of this legislation, we worked across party lines to ensure its success, united in our commitment to protecting domestic violence survivors and honoring the memory of Melanie.

Without Assemblywoman Barrett's leadership and support, Melanie's Law might not have made it out of the Judiciary Committee. Her dedication to this cause and seniority allowed the bill to reach the Assembly floor for a full vote, passing with nearly unanimous support.

Domestic violence is an issue that transcends politics, and this bill is a critical step toward ensuring greater safety for survivors in New York State. We are proud to have worked together in a bipartisan fashion, and we recognize that the success of this legislation is shared.

We thank Assemblywoman Barrett for her partnership and look forward to the bill's future impact on the lives of those affected by domestic violence.

Appellate Division affirms Rolling Hills decision in Town of Fishkill's favor

The Supreme Court of the State of New York Appellate Division Second Judicial Circuit, in a 16 page decision, ruled that the Supreme Court of New York "properly granted dismissal of the cause of action alleging breaching of contract," regarding a lawsuit brought against the Town of Fishkill by a developer, Hudson View Park. Hudson View Park, according to Town of Fishkill Supervisor Ozzy Albra, was seeing to build the Rolling Hills Development in the Town. The Memorandum of Agreement (MOU), said Albra in an email to Fishkill residents, involved Hudson View Park's request for a zoning amendment from the Town to benefit their development.

"In April of 2020, after I took office, my fellow board members and I made the decision to terminate the review of the proposed zoning amendment and were advised that our actions were proper by our then Town Attorney, Brian Nugent of Feerick Nugent MacCartney. Mr. Nugent had advised the Board that the MOU violated what is know[n] as the term limits rule, which prohibits a Town Board from binding a successor Town Board in legislative matters - such as zoning amendments," explained Albra.

As a result, Hudson View Park sued the Town for breach of contract. The supervisor said the developer was "seeking over 1.2 million dollars from the Town." In January of 2021, The Dutchess Supreme Court ruled in favor of the Town of Fishkill and dismissed the Complaint, in January 2021. The court ruled and "agree[d] with Mr. Nugent's position that the MOU violated the term limits rule and was impermissible contract zoning," stated Albra. The Court's decision was appealed by Hudson View Park.

"On October 30, 2024, the Appellate Division issued its decision agreeing in all respects with the [Town's] arguments and affirming the dismissal of Hudson View Park's complaint against the Town," remarked Albra.

"This decision strongly confirms what I have said all along - that developers will not be permitted to tell the Town what it will or will not do. This decision is a significant victory for the Town of Fishkill and all other municipalities since it upholds the power of Town Board's to exercise their legislative discretion without fear of litigation claims from developers," said Albra.

The supervisor thanked former Town Board members Louise Daniele, Ori Brachfeld, Kenya Gadsden and Jackie Bardini who worked with him "to protect the residents of Fishkill."

Hochul, Metro-North seek proposals to 'transform' surface parking lot adjacent to train station into 300 units of mixed-income housing

RFPs are due by Dec. 18

The Metropolitan Transportation Authority issued a Request for Proposals to transform a surface parking lot adjacent to the Beacon Metro-North Station into a residential development with about 300 units of mixed-income housing and replacement parking for commuters, the latest milestone in the Governor's ongoing efforts to repurpose State-owned sites for new housing.

"Good quality housing for all New Yorkers is one of my top priorities as Governor, and I'm committed to doing all I can to make that a reality for everyone in this great state," Governor Kathy Hochul said in a press release on Nov. 1. "Along with the achievements made in my FY25 Enacted Budget, the MTA's recent Request for Proposals to transform a surface parking lot adjacent to Beacon Metro-North Station not only increases housing stock, but also uplifts the local economy by attracting businesses and creates a healthier community.'

The project, according to State officials, aims to address the City of Beacon's efforts to foster greater connectivity between the waterfront, the Beacon Station and its Main Street. Metro-North's Hudson line connects Beacon to midtown Manhattan in just 78 minutes.

The RFP is available on the Metropolitan Transportation Authority website. The proposals are due by Wednesday, Dec. 18.

MTA Chair and CEO Janno Lieber said in the press release, "The MTA has long been a leader in the movement for Transit-Oriented Development that creates dynamic, walkable communities. This project will not only enliven Beacon, it responds to Governor Hochul's commitment to address the housing crisis.'

Army keeps rolling with win over Air Force

There is something special brewing right in our backyard.

The football team at the United States Military Academy just can't be beaten.

Army won again on Saturday, 20-3, over military rival Air Force, improving to 8-0 and extending the nation's longest winning streak to 12.

The Black Knights are just a victory away over Navy in their traditional season-ending game next month from winning the coveted Commander-in-Chief's Trophy awarded to By Rich Thomaselli of the penultimate regular-season game for Spackenkill, a 10-0 win over Port Jervis. Maia Viggiano recorded the hat trick for the winners.

The Our Lady of Lourdes boys soccer team avenged a loss from last year and won the Section 9, Class A championship with a 2-0 victory over Beacon last week. The game was played at Middletown

High School.

It was the second year in a row that the

the winner of the three military academies.

With its normally potent offense stymied, Army had to beat Air Force in a defensive battle. But the Black Knights were up to the challenge, holding the Falcons to less than 200 yards of offense for the game. Army is just one of eight unbeaten teams left in the Football Bowl Championship division, formerly known as Division I.

The team still has four regular season games left, including against Navy and a contest against Notre Dame.

What a game!

Morgan Agosta scored a goal in the second half to give the Spackenkill High School girls soccer team a 2-1 victory over Our Lady of Lourdes heading into the Section 9 playoffs.

It was the first loss of the season for the Warriors

OLL's Val Perez gave the Warriors a brief 1-0 lead in the first half until Blythe McQuade tied it, setting up her teammate's second half heroics.

Bella Gilmore made eight saves for the Spartans.

The dramatic victory came on the heels two schools met, a throwback to win both played in Duchess County based leagues. Beacon won last season for its third consecutive title.

The victim was OLL.

This year, the Warriors were scheduled to open the state playoffs on Wednesday against the Section 1 champion.

It was the first sectional title for coach Eileen Cancro, whose son Evan is a standout on the team.

Whitted leads Beacon to victory

Not bad for coming off the bench. Delano Rigby came in after an early injury to starting quarterback Jazziah Whitted and through two touchdown passes to lead the Beacon High School football team to a 25-14 win over Spackenkill in a Section 9, Class B quarterfinal game.

The Bulldogs forced five turnovers in the game including an interception return for a touchdown.

Beacon was scheduled to play Port Jervis in a sectional semifinal game on Friday. The Bulldogs will bring a 7-2 record into the game.

RBR Real Estate Solutions lists Executive Square in WF for sale

Commercial broker, Rob Buyakowski of RBR Real Estate Solutions, has announced the listing of Executive Square, a premier medical office building located at 66 Middlebush Road in the Town of Wappinger, for sale at $3.9 million.

The three-story office building, complete with an elevator and ample parking, offers an incredible opportunity for real estate investment trusts or investment groups specializing in medical facilities. In addition to its size, this medical or professional office building is strategically located on the southwest corner of a signalized major intersection within the highly active Route 9 corridor.

"Executive Square spans over two acres and presents an excellent opportunity for large groups managing medical portfolios," said Buyakowski. "Real estate investment trusts, which are increasingly targeting medical office buildings, will find this property ideal for co-occupancy, as it offers the flexibility to attract complementary tenants."

This asset presents the option to parcel out the building as condo-style suites, creating tailored investment opportunities for those seeking medical office space or other portfolios. Currently, the offices consist of a 17-suite arrangement among its three floors, but adjacent suites can be combined with enclosed common areas to meet additional square footage needs. The building would be particularly well-suited for a dental group, orthodontic practice, or other medical offices looking to establish or expand their presence in the Hudson Valley's Town of Wappinger. County's Stabilization Center one of New York's first licensed centers

Dutchess County's first-of-its-kind Stabilization Center, a partnership between the Dutchess County Department of Mental Health (DCDMH) and People USA, recently became one of the first Supportive Crisis Stabilization Centers licensed by the New York State Office of Mental Health (NYS OMH) and the State's Office of Addiction Services and Supports (OASAS), further solidifying the facility as a model to be emulated and duplicated throughout the state and beyond.

Opened in March 2017 as the only such facility in New York, Dutchess County's Stabilization Center is a 24/7, non-medical, voluntary, walk-in center for individuals experiencing crisis resulting from mental health or substance use issues. Located at 230 North Road in Poughkeepsie, the Stabilization Center provides law enforcement and Dutchess County's 24/7 Mobile Crisis Intervention Team the ability to divert individuals with behavioral health or substance use issues so they can receive immediate assistance and services in order to deescalate crisis and plan for ongoing services upon departing the center.

Since its opening, the Stabilization Center has been operated as a public-private collaboration, with DCDMH working with community partners to bring about positive results for its guests. Highlighting the success of that Dutchess County model, NYS OMH and OASAS has issued the new license to People USA to operate the Stabilization Center.

County Executive Sue Serino said, "For years, Dutchess County's Stabilization Center has made a marked impact on the lives of thousands of residents of all ages, leading to positive outcomes for its guests. We have always known the value of our Stabilization Center, and we are thrilled New York State similarly values its life-saving influence. As a licensed facility, our Stabilization Center is not only the cornerstone of Dutchess County's mental health and addiction services programs, it's a shining example for other communities – throughout New York and the nation – to replicate and realize similar success. Dutchess County is so proud of its partnership with People USA, which has culminated in this historic achievement."

In 2023, the Stabilization Center served more than 3,000 guests, including nearly 800 under the age of 18, helping divert them from hospital emergency departments or incarceration.

Steve Miccio, People USA's Chief Executive Officer, said, "For seven years, the Stabilization Center has been a beacon of hope for so many in our community, often serving as their first step along their journey to recovery and wellness. Collaborating with Dutchess County, we have redefined compassionate and effective care for those in crisis. We are thrilled to receive this prestigious certification, affirming our dedication to serving the mental health needs of our community."

This latest achievement, receiving New York's first license to operate a facility of this type, is a testament to the dedication and hard work of our staff, partners and the larger community. It reaffirms our commitment to providing timely, compassionate and effective crisis intervention services to individuals facing mental health challenges."

New York State's licensing process, overseen by NYS OMH and OASAS, involved rigorous assessments of the Stabilization Center's infrastructure, services and adherence to best practices in crisis intervention and mental health care. The Stabilization Center met and exceeded stringent criteria, including staffing qualifications, service accessibility, collaboration with community resources and adherence to evidence-based practices.

New York defines a Supportive Crisis Stabilization Center (SCSC) as a center that provides support and assistance to individuals with mental health and/or substance use crisis symptoms. Such centers provide services for individuals experiencing challenges in daily life who do not pose a likelihood of serious harm. SCSCs will provide voluntary services, with an emphasis on peer support that is resilience and recovery-oriented; these facilities also provide behavioral health support 24 hours per day, seven days per week. Recipients may receive services in a SCSC for up to 24 hours.

County Executive Serino announces $2-million investment in EMS

Ahead of the release of the 2025 Executive Budget, Dutchess County Executive Sue Serino announced a historic $2 million investment in Emergency Medical Services (EMS). Key highlights of the funding include the launch of supplemental ambulance coverage, a public awareness campaign, and initiatives to address the workforce shortage.

"Emergency Medical Services are a vital lifeline for our residents, and this significant investment ensures we can meet the growing needs of our community," said Dutchess County Executive Sue Serino. "This funding will not only improve EMS response times but also reduce pressure on mutual aid services, ensuring each community has the coverage it needs."

In 2025, Dutchess County will partner with municipalities to launch a supplemental ambulance coverage program, contracting with commercial providers to enhance EMS response and reliability. This will serve as a temporary measure while long-term solutions to the EMS challenges are developed. It will diversify the EMS vendors operating within the county, keeping costs competitive to potentially lower costs for municipalities and improving service reliability. The supplemental coverage will reduce the overuse of mutual aid services, keeping community resources within each community and improving the overall EMS system for residents.

ment efforts to address the workforce shortage and draw more job seekers into this crucial field. The County is also working to support those who are currently in the field, implementing first responder resiliency trainings, including a peer-to-peer support network for the mental and emotional well-being of first responders.

Deputy Commissioner of Emergency Response Shawn Castano said, "We are grateful to County Executive Serino for her unwavering commitment to addressing the EMS crisis. She has been resolute in bringing people together to understand the problems each of our communities are facing and working to find solutions. This critical investment in EMS will help us advance solutions to ensure residents have the care they need, when they need it most."

Serino first outlined the County's multiprong approach to addressing the EMS crisis in her State of the County Address in March and since then, has taken significant steps to find solutions to those challenges. Over the past few months, together with the Department of Emergency Response, she has met with supervisors and mayors and other representatives from every municipality in Dutchess County to discuss the historical and current challenges facing EMS, reviewing data for their specific regions that is critical to informing strategic solutions. The discussions are ongoing with additional meetings being coordinated, including meetings with fire chiefs. A bipartisan coalition of municipal leaders also joined Serino in advocating for the passage of the New York State Association of Counties 'Rescue EMS' legislative package. Read the letter here. That advocacy led to the successful passage of legislation that allows the ability for EMS providers to bill for 'treatment in place' and to transport patients to alternative destinations, such as the Dutchess County Stabilization Center, by ambulance. The Governor recently signed this legislation into law, an important step toward expanding EMS care and improving service delivery.

In partnership with the Dutchess County Legislature, Serino also launched a new 'Fly-Car' Grant Program, to provide lifesaving equipment to fire departments for their 'fly car' vehicles in exchange for unified EMS recruitment messaging to be decaled on these highly visible vehicles. All Dutchess County fire departments, ambulance corps and rescue squads were eligible for awards of up to $20,000 for equipment that would help EMS first responders be as effective as possible on scene. Multiple departments took advantage of this opportunity to submit applications, which are currently being reviewed and award announcements will be forthcoming in the coming weeks.

Serino concluded, "We are making every effort to address this challenge. This historic investment represents a significant milestone in ensuring the safety and well-being of all Dutchess County residents. We are committed to building a more resilient, reliable EMS system that our community can depend on when it matters most."

Serino will present her 2025 Executive Budget in the Dutchess County Legislature Chambers on Tuesday, October 29, at 3 p.m. The County Executive's Budget Address can be viewed live on the County's website, dutchessny.gov/budget2025. Serino will also host will host a countywide tele-town hall forum at 6:30 p.m. that evening when residents will have the opportunity to participate in a live conversation about the proposed budget, learn key details, ask questions and share feedback.

The $2 million investment will also support other key efforts, including:

Public Awareness Campaign: To better inform the public about EMS services, the County will create a social media campaign aimed at educating residents on when to call 911 and when other medical options may be more appropriate. The goal is to ensure the public understands the critical and essential role of EMS services in Dutchess County and how they can best utilize them.

County Players to present 'Perfect Arrangement'

Contemporary comedy to open November 8

County Players, one of the longest-running community theatre companies in the area, is proud to present the Contemporary Comedy "Perfect Arrangement" by Topher Payne. This Main Stage production is directed by Sydnie Grosberg Ronga and opens Friday, November 8. Additional performances are scheduled for Fridays & Saturdays Nov. 8, 9, 15, 16, 22, 23 at 8 p.m., with matinees on Sunday November 17 and Saturday, Nov. 23 at 2 p.m. at the County Players Falls Theatre, 2681 W. Main Street in the Village of Wappingers Falls.

"Perfect Arrangement" is a contemporary comedy. It's 1950, and new colors are being added to the Red Scare. Two U.S. State Department employees, Bob and Norma, have been tasked with identifying sexual deviants within their ranks. There's just one problem: both Bob and Norma are involved in a carefully constructed cover-up. Inspired by the true story of the earliest stirrings of the gay rights movement, Perfect Arrangement merges madcap sitcom-style laughs with provocative drama as two U.S. State Department employees struggle to maintain their cover – and their sanity – in mid-century America. "[A] clever canapé of a comedy..." The New York Times.

The production features the local talents of Marco Caviglia, Katrina Lantz, Rick Meyer, Dylan Parkin, Alexandra Petrova-Emisti, Lauren Silverman, and Aimee Trumbore. Of this production, director Sydnie Grosberg Ronga said, "The play is about juggling masks - private lives versus secret lives, and finding your true self. It is a comedy of manners leaning toward farce with a message about prejudices that is still incredibly relevant."

Individual tickets are available online in advance of the performance dates at countyplayers.org. Adult: $26, Senior 60+, Military, Students (with ID at the door), and Children under 12: $24. The Box Office is open for in-person ticket sales one hour before performance time.

Hudson Valley Credit Union proudly sponsors County Players' 67th Season. This production of "Perfect Arrangement" is made possible with the support of our Silver Sponsor: Stissing Center for Arts & Culture, and presented by arrangement with Concord Theatricals, on behalf of Samuel French, Inc. concord theatricals.com

Learn about the Lenape culture at Mount Gulian Historic Site on Nov. 9

By Kristine Coulter

Learn about the Lenape culture and Lenapehoing, the land of the Lenape, during a talk on local history at Mount Gulian Historic Site at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 9. Harv Hilowitz, a contributing scholar for the Maritime Museum in Kingston, will give the talk. The Hudson River Valley National Heritage area is the sponsor of the event.

According to organizers, "For over 12,000 years, the ancestors of the Lenape culture lived and thrived in Lenapehoking, the land of the Lenape, which included the Hudson Valley. Local tribes such as the Wappinger, Esopus and Tappan encountered Henry Hudson along the Mahicannituck in 1609, changing things dramatically forever."

Hilowitz said, "The ancestors of the Lenape People lived in the Hudson Valley for well over ten thousand years. We know them from the colonial "contact period" as Wappinee, Esopus, Munsee and hundreds of other local tribal names. Descendants of the Lenape still live here, and on Federal reservations in Oklahoma, Kansas and Wisconsin, and on First Nation reserves in Canada."

One of the temporary sites of the Lenape, according to Mount Gulian Executive Director Elaine Hayes, was the property where Mount Gulian would one day be located. Mount Gulian was the home of the Verplanck family and played a part in the American Revolution. "...and was also the site of the Rombout Patent of 1683, the Indian Deed selling much of Dutchess County to colonial settlers. Interaction with the Europeans forced the Lenape to develop survival strategies, resulting in a remnant leaving the area to live elsewhere," said Hayes. Hayes noted, "Cornelis Barentse Van

Hayes noted, "Cornelis Barentse Van Wyck arrived in what is now Brooklyn around 1660. The area was entirely inhabited by Lenape (mostly Canarsee, Nyack and Rockaways) and a handful of Dutch settlers. When the Van Wycks arrived in the Hudson Valley in the 1700's, many Lenape had already been forced out, but the Van Wycks undoubtedly interacted with them on a daily basis."

Hilowitz will focus on Lenape lifeways before the contact period and delve into the Lenape diaspora, and current renaissance and return to the area, said organizers.

Admission for the talk is $12/adults; $10/seniors; $5 children (5-15 years). Mount Gulian members are free, but membership is open to the public. Call 845-831-8172 or email info@mountgulian.org to make reservations. Payment can be made on the day of the event. If there are seats available, walk-ins will be accommodated.

Hilowitz and Hayes hope that visitors come away with "respect for the Native Peoples," who lived on this land for so many centuries, and "an understanding" of their history, and that Lenape People are still here and thriving.

A Hudson Valley Reckoning set at FDR Library Nov. 13

The FDR Presidential Library and Museum and the Mid-Hudson Antislavery History Project will present a conversation and book signing with Debra Bruno, author of "A Hudson Valley Reckoning: Discovering the Forgotten History of Slaveholding in My Dutch American Family," at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 13.

The event will be held in the Henry A. Wallace Center at the FDR Presidential Library and Home and streamed live to the official FDR Presidential Library YouTube and Facebook accounts. Registered attendees can visit the Library's special exhibition, Black Americans, Civil Rights, and the Roosevelts, free of charge before the program, from 4-6 p.m.

This is a free public event, but registration is required to attend in-person. Visit fdrlibrary.org to register.

"A Hudson Valley Reckoning" tells the story of slavery's history in upstate New York through Debra Bruno's chronicle that uncovers her Dutch ancestors' slave-holding past and leads to a deep connection with the descendants of the enslaved people her family owned.

Bruno, who grew up in New York's

Hudson Valley knowing little about her Dutch heritage, was shaken when a historian told her that her Dutch ancestors were almost certainly slaveholders. Driven by this knowledge, she began to unearth her family's past. In the last will and testament of her ancestor, she found the first evidence: human beings bequeathed to his family along with animals and furniture. The more she expanded her family tree, the more enslavers she found. She reached out to Black Americans tracing their own ancestry, and by serendipitous luck became friends with Eleanor C. Mire, a descendant of a woman enslaved by Bruno's Dutch ancestors.

"A Hudson Valley Reckoning" recounts Bruno's journey into the nearly forgotten history of Northern slavery and of the thousands of enslaved people brought in chains to Manhattan and the Hudson Valley. With the help of Mire, who provides a moving epilogue, Debra Bruno tells the story of White and Black lives impacted by the stain of slavery and its long legacy of racism, as she investigates the erasure of the uncomfortable truths about our family and national histories.

love to cook

by vicki frank day

November 6, 2024

There it is: the inevitable letdown after Halloween. All the anticipation and prep and baking, candy, decorating, magic and scary fun with some beautiful time outside breathing in the glory of fall, over now for another year. I sure could use a little comforting, so this kitchen witch will be making just the thing to soothe her dispirited soul.

To me there's nothing quite like a big pot of rich, savory beef stew to warm the heart and nourish the soul. As a lover of food history, making it also adds that wonderful feeling of connection to days long past; and every time I make it, I imagine people from different eras and cultures doing the same, all finally sitting down to savor its comforting flavors, aromas and textures.

I love picturing long-ago cooks adding ingredients to a bubbling pot set over the fire, filling their homes with the wonderful scent of herbs, vegetables and tender, slow-cooked beef and can almost feel the chill leave their bones. Every culture has its own version, and the Ancient Romans, Vikings, Native Americans and medieval peasants contributed greatly to the versions we think of today. But it was the French who really mastered it, forever ingraining what was once a peasant dish in the culinary world with their ragouts and Beef Bourguignon.

No matter what you call it, beef stew is, at its heart, a delicious way to cook tough cuts of meat with vegetables to feed a crowd, transforming the mundane into something extraordinary. It's no wonder it has stood the test of time. To that end there are many ways to make it, but this is my go-to version, which is beautifully simple and flavorful, just the thing for when you need the kind of comfort only food can give.

EASY BEEF STEW

This recipe is perfect for times you need a little solace on a cold night. It's thick, rich, flavorful broth alone could do the trick, but the meat and vegetables make it a meal. The nature of the cuts of meat used means there's long cooking time involved, but this is ready in just under 2 hours, so you won't have to wait all that long, and it's worth it. That's plenty of time to bump up the comfort factor and make a batch of brownies or cookies in the meantime!

Kettle of comfort

This simple and savory stew warms body and the spirit.

What cuts of beef to use

You can often find pre-cut stew meat readily available in stores. You want cuts that are typically tough that benefit from long, slow cooking to bring out their flavor and juicy tenderness, such as chuck (which I use) or bone-in short ribs.

INGREDIENTS

2 lbs beef stew meat (cut into 1-inch cubes)

- Salt and pepper to taste
- 3 tablespoons flour
- Olive oil (about 2 tablespoons)
- 1 onion, chopped
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 1/4 cup dry red wine (optional) 1/4 cup tomato paste
- 4 cups beef stock

1 lb potatoes, peeled and cubed (or baby potatoes, halved)

- 6 (large) carrots, cut into thick coins
- 1 parsnip, diceed (optional)
- 2 teaspoons dried thyme and/or oregano 2 bay leaves

METHOD

Place beef in a large bowl and season with salt and pepper. Add flour and toss to coat well.

Heat olive oil in a Dutch oven or large pot over medium heat. Add beef and brown on all sides, stirring occasionally, about 6 minutes.

Add onion and garlic and cook until fragrant, 2-3 minutes. Add wine (if using) and tomato paste and stir to combine, scraping to loosen any browned bits in the pot.

Add beef stock, potatoes, carrots, parsnip (if using) and herbs and stir to combine. Reduce heat to low, cover and simmer until meat is tender, about 90 minutes. Remove bay leaves and serve.

Makes about 8 servings. Store any left in the fridge for up to three days. Oh, and it's better the second day!

And so, with a big pot of beef stew bubbling away on the stove, I now feel uplifted and ready for bleak November and the cold nights ahead. It's nothing fancy, but it doesn't need to be. I find that "peasant food," in its simplicity and born of a need to be practical, can do wonders. It's magical how common ingredients come together to make something so hearty and delectable.

There's good to be found in every season, and savoring something this rich and satisfying will surely get me through, warming me, heart and soul, while I dream of next Halloween and get ready for the busy holiday season ahead. Enjoy!

Invasive plant update

Add these to the list of plants determined to take over the world.

Oriental bittersweet.

Mmmm. Porcelain Berry Honey. That's what my honeybees made. Is it tastier than clover, orange blossom or tupelo honey? I'll never know, since I don't take honey from the hive – the bees are there only to pollinate our gardens. Over the last several years, the highly invasive porcelain berry vine (or amur peppervine) has been clawing its way through my property, smothering trees and bushes in its path. In July, its blossoms drip with sweet nectar, and the beehive empties out as the honeybees gorge themselves.

Porcelain Berry is one of the more than 50 plants prohibited from sale in N.Y. state because they crowd out native species. We've all heard about purple looosestrife, Japanese stilt grass, barberry and various honeysuckle, but some of the more obscure invasives have been on the march lately. Drive down the Saw Mill River Parkway toward Yonkers if you want to see what porcelain vine can do. Also:

• Swallow Wort, or "Dog Strangling Vine," related to milkweed, so Monarch butterflies lay their eggs on the leaves, but the caterpillars die. I've got swallow wort climbing all over my pine trees. I rip it off every summer, but of course it comes back from the roots. The leaves are arrowshaped. The seed pods look like string beans. -Photos by Mark Adams inspired Edgar Allan Poe, but is it worth it? I discovered a small patch of apple mint, which some people think is invasive, sprouting in a field of mugwort behind my house and thought, wouldn't it be great if the mint took over?

• Lesser Celandine – Over just the past few years, this look-alike to the marsh marigold has completely crowded out the native spring wildflowers along some parts of Wappingers Creek. For example, at Creekside Park near Eastdale. With any luck, the invasive jumping worms will gobble up the lesser celandine. Or maybe woodchucks.

• Wild Buckwheat (Fallopian convolvulus) – I saw it for the first time this summer, entangled in my invasive giant reed grass. More of a curiosity than a real problem, since it's an annual that needs to sprout from seed every spring. It looks like the also invasive bindweed (wild morning glory) but without the pretty flowers.

• Controlling Invasive Plants – Constant mowing before seeds set will help, or constant cultivation (plowing the soil every spring). Or, (are you ready for this?) chemical weed killers, which for some reason, Cornell Cooperative Extension will not recommend, even though they are recommended by Cornell University.

Porcelain Berry Vine.

• Bittersweet – I was heartbroken to find out that oriental bittersweet (But not the native American Bittersweet) is invasive. If you don't believe how explosive this gaggle of beautiful orange berries can be, take a walk on the North County Trail near Millwood in Westchester County, or better yet, drive up South Quaker Lane.

• Mugwort (Artemesia vulgaris) – It's hard to believe this obnoxious invasive was once sold in garden centers. Its perennial underground runners form a mat so dense you can't get through it with a backhoe (but woodchucks can). True, mugwort is supposed to cure everything from ulcers to hepatitis, and was supposedly the ingredient in Absinthe that • A New Kid on the Block – Move over spotted lanternflies. My good friend Mike Mitchell, who is a member of the N.Y. Invasive Species Advisory Council, just got back from Georgia (the country) with news of a brand new invasive pest: The Tropilaelops Mercedes Mite, which is devastating beehives in the area around the Black Sea. Supposedly much more destructive than the varroa mite. We don't have it yet, but please be vigilant.

Vito Petroccitto will be providing music as we enjoy the buffet table's bounty brought in by those attending. (Your contribution should serve 5 - 6 people, and can be homemade or store bought.)

But wait! There's another party as well that you can now sign up for. It's our annual off site Senior Center "Holiday Party" on Dec. 5 at Mill Creek Catering in Hopewell Junction. There is a per person charge to attend, payable at registration. We will be enjoying a fully served lunch and music by Chain Gang. Seating is limited and tends to sell out quickly, so try not to delay.

Sue Serino, our DC Executive, will be holding a Town Hall at our Senior Center on Tuesday, Nov.19 at 1 p.m. Our next Lunch and Learn (and our second for November) is "Community Solar Campaign," where you can learn about signing up for no-cost solar energy that can save up to 10% on your electric bill. It will be held on Nov. 21 at noon. Looking ahead, Stop the Bleed First Aid is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 3 beginning at noon. Sign up in advance for these presentations is requested.

For further information, please stop by our SC at 14 Abe's Way or call us at 845-462-0265 during our regular Center hours Monday - Friday between 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. We will be closed on Nov.11 and Nov. 28-29.

For reservations call 845-320-3246.

The drive is sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

Beacon Players ready to dream in 'Man of La Mancha'

By Kristine Coulter

Ready to dream? Ready to dream "The Impossible Dream?" The Beacon Players, the drama department at Beacon High School (BHS) in the Beacon City School District, will perform the musical "Man of La Mancha"

Anthony Scarrone is the producer of The Beacon Players. "The hit song from "Man of La Mancha" "The Impossible Dream" established itself inside my brain long before I went to school to announce our show for the fall. It's a big song musically and in spirit, and it's been in my heart and a soul since the show opened on Broadway opened in 1965 and as a young man saw it with my girlfriend (now wife) in 1968," stated Scarrone.

He continued: "I do remember Richard Kiley singing "The Impossible Dream" in person and on "The Ed Sullivan Show." Since then, I heard it performed by everyone from Robert Goulet to Jack Jones and everyone in between."

In a way the song overshadowed the hit musical it emerged from, said Scarrone.

The Beacon Players staging of "Man of La Mancha," with book by Dale Wasserman, music by Mitch Leigh, and lyrics by Joe Darion, opens on Nov. 8 and 9 at 7 p.m. and on Nov. 10 at 2 p.m. in the Pete & Toshi Theater at Beacon High School, 101 Mattewan Road, in Beacon.

One of the students in the drama club is Evangeline Santise, who is a ninth grader.

"My older sister Anastasia has been in Beacon Players for her whole high school career, and she told me about it," explained Evangeline about how long she has been in the drama club.

Asked what it is like working and performing at BHS, Evangeline replied, "It is really amazing and I'm so happy that I get to be a part of it. I have always admired the attention to detail and sheer professionalism in these shows and to be a part of it contributing to this production is just amazing."

Evangeline plays a Moor girl, which, "is a dancer and I also play one of the Knights of the Mirrors which is a really awesome character."

Scarrone explained, "Jonah Espinosa makes an immediate impression as Miguel de Cervantes just coming off playing the Phantom in "Phantom of the Opera" as he is led into the dungeon full of common criminals. He is upright, and proud, but not haughty, though his fellow inmates may disagree. He is accompanied by his servant. Evelynn Moreno casting as the comic relief is as pitch perfect as Espinosa is for the lead."

Anthony Soltish, who is a sophomore, portrays Juan, one of the Muleteers.

"I wanted to become an actor, so when I saw posters around the school for Beacon Players, I joined and have loved it ever since," said Anthony. He noted, "It is very exciting, performing on stage and working with the rest of the cast."

Let's not forget all of the crew who have been working hard on the sets, lighting and more behind the scenes.

One member of the crew is junior Shyanne McNair.

"My older brother and sister did Beacon Players when they were in high school, so when I saw the opportunity in 7th grade to join the younger company crew I didn't hesitate to join," remarked Shyanne.

Working on the sets is a "great experience that has exposed me to many possible career paths. I've also met many amazing people and made a lot of new friendships," said Shyanne.

Henry Gute is a member of the lighting crew, who recalled: "I grew up watching Beacon Players' shows and always wanted to be a part of a production. I remember being especially inspired by the sets in shows like "Peter Pan" and "Beauty and the Beast." I remember telling my mom that I didn't want to act but someday wanted to help make the sets." Last year Henry worked on set and running crew for the production of "Phantom," and acted in the younger company production of "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown."

BHS Senior Messiah Gardner plays The Governor/Innkeeper in this production. "The Governor is basically the leader of the prisoners; he's commanding and a bit impatient. Later, he becomes the innkeeper who is kinda the opposite of him, he's kind and a bit of a pushover," Messiah explained.

As for being on stage and performing, Messiah said, "It's hard to explain but performing on stage just gives you this kind of rush. Like performing on stage and showing all the hard work you've done by putting in a great show. It's just great."

"I think what I look forward to most about this show is probably the song I get to sing. It's called "Knight of The Woeful Countenance," said Messiah.

"Our young students have taken on this sophisticated and mature production with an incredible amount of focus and hard work, and it shows in every aspect of the play," said Scarrone.
